Veterans of the Blue and Gray Mingle Fraternally on Historic Battle Field Where Fifty Years Ago Today They Struggled for Supremacy—Thousands Attending Semicentennial

Gettysburg, Pa., June 30.—Over the field of Gettysburg, where the Blue and Grey fought fifty years ago, the soldiers of peace from the North and South, the East and the West, trooped today to the tented city of brown, where they will live in the four days of semi-centennial celebration.

United in Fact.

It was an army united in sentiment, and united in fact, for the Blue linked arms with the Grey. They marched the dusty road together from the village, they sat down at the same mess tables, and they talked over the war together. If there was any rancor in any heart, any feeling of bitterness, it did not come to the surface, and over the broad expanse of the "city" reunions of those who won, and those who tried, went on hour after hour.

Forty Thousand Present.

Officials of the regular army in charge of the camp tonight estimated that nearly 15,000 veterans came in during the day, bringing the total close to 40,000. The sun blazed just as fiercely as ever, but down from the Blue Ridge tumbled a lively little breeze that curled the open tent flaps and carried vigor to the tired veterans. In consequence of this relief there were fewer prostrations.

Reception by Survivors.

Although the programme of the celebration will not be taken up until tomorrow, there was a reception today by survivors of Buford's Division of Meade's army, and Wheeler's division of Lee's. The meeting was held in the big tent set aside for speech-making, and began fifty years to the hour from the time when the first shot preceding the battle was fired. The grey cavalrymen who fought in skirmishes that led up to the three days' fight, pledged themselves in the shadow of the Stars and Stripes to "forget," and their brotners in Blue swore by the Stars and Bars that the fight was over for all time.

Veterans Display Emotion.

There were several women from the village in the tent, and six one-time school girls, grey-haired and aged now, sang "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys," while the veterans wept like boys, but with pride. The six women who sang the battle song were among those who thronged the streets of Gettysburg after the advance guard of the Southern army left it fifty years ago.

On that night, when Buford's men came riding into the village on the heels of Wheeler's men in grey, maidens strewed flowers along the streets and bells in the churches pealed out the news of the coming of the Blue, and the town went wild. Of all the scores of girls who welcomed the vanguard of Meade only a half dozen could be found, and they stood, white-haired, with tears in their eyes, on a platform in the big tent and sang to the weeping soldiers in the seats below.

"I'm afraid we can't sing like we sang fifty years ago," said the woman who acted as leader, as she led the way up the steps to the platform.

"We don't care; just sing again," shouted the veterans.

As the first notes of the wartime melody came from them in quavering tones, the veterans both of the North and of the South sat quiet, with eyes flexd upon the singers. The hum of the chorus came from every side and many men wept openly.

One bearded veteran of an Illinois regiment rose to tell of an incident that happened on that other July night.

"As we rode through Gettysburg that last time," he said, "I remember a little girl stopped my horse, and said she wanted to give me a boquet. I got down and she pinned a ribbon, a little purple ribbon, to my coat.

"'Wear that in the next battle you get into,' she said.

"'We're not going to have any more battles around here,' he told her.

"'Yes, you are,' she insisted. 'Those hills back there are full of rebels.'

"I wore that purple ribbon through the battle. I never saw the girl afterwards, but I've kept that ribbon, and it's back at home today."

The veteran looked slowly toward the platform to see if any of the women there had been the donor of that faded bit of ribbon, but not one nodded in answer, and he sank into his seat with a sigh.

"I guess she's with the army above," he said.

Governors in Camp.

Four governors came into camp today.

Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, was the first arrival; Governor Tener of Pennsylvania, was close on his heels, and Governors Mann, of Virginia, and McCreary, of Kentucky, arrived later.

As Governor Mann passed down the dusty street in the plan of Gettysburg field called "Confederate avenue" seventy-five veterans in grey from Richmond lined up to salute, lifted their hats and gave the rebel yell, while nearly a thousand burst into strains of Dixie.

Governor Mann stopped his automobile just beyond the veterans and made a little speech:

"Peace among my countrymen is universal," he said. "Only good feeling prevails. There is no North and no South; no rebels, and no yanks. All is one great nation."

While the men in grey stood waiting in the blazing sun for the Virginia governor to pass, more than a hundred automobiles filled with sightseers scurried over the road in front of them. Every man, busy as he might have been, before he reached the straggling column, lifted his hat and kept it off until he passed the end of the line.

General Sickles, the only corps commander of the Union army on the field was the center of attraction of hundreds of men in grey. He sat on the porch of the Rogers House, on the field near the spot where he was shot, and there stood sand-shaking.

Before the Southerners left the Rogers House they shouldered the general, carried him out onto the battlefield, and stood him up before the camera fire and moving picture machines.

SOUTH CAROLINA DELEGATION

Seeks Renewal of Federal Aid for Its State Militia

Washington, June 30.—Members of the South Carolina delegation in Congress, accompanied by Brigadier General Jones, of the South Carolina militia, went to the War Department today to talk with Secretary Garrison about a renewal of Federal aid to the organized militia o ftheir State. The secretary informed his callers that if Governor Blease himself would make application for a continuance of Federal support he would consider it.

Because of the dfiant attitude of Governor Blease the War Department recently announced that no further Federal assistance either in personnel or equipment would be afforded the militia of South Carolina. Department officials declared at the time that Governor Blease not only ignored the standards of efficiency in the State militia demanded under the Dick law as a condition of Federal aid, but had announced that as commander-in-chief of the State volunteer forces, he would do what he pleased regardless of Federal authority.

Exchanges on the subject reached a climax when the Governor wrote Secretary Garrison that he did not want Federal aid, and would be glad to have it withdrawn. Then the order was issued withdrawing from South Carolina the Federal support given the organized militia of all other States and territories. Since that time Governor Blease has given no intimation that he has changed his mind; although the State militia authorities are very much disturbed over the situation.

SEVERE HEAT WAVE.

Many Deaths and Prostrations Throughout the United States.

Chicago, June 30.—Reports received up to a late hour tonight showed that at least 46 persons died today as a result of the heat wave in the Central West.

The heat wave which has continued uninterruptedly for six days, extended from Denver to Pittsburg, and as far north as Lake Superior. Chicago with a temperature of 102 degrees was the hottest place in the United States, except Tucson, Ariz., where the temperature also was 102. Intense suffering was reported in all the large cities enveloped in the heat wave.

Thirty-nine persons are known to have died here today as a result of the intense heat. This number includes only the cases reported by the coroner and the police, and it is expected, will be increased by reports of private physicians. Of these deaths, 32 were the direct result of heat strokes, five persons committed suicide, as a result of the heat, and two deaths were of children seeking relief.

This was the hottest June day recorded in this city since the government records were first kept in 1872. Ninety-nine degrees was the official temperature, but the government thermometer on the street level showed a temperature of 102 degrees. The heat last night and today was not tempered by a breeze.

Seven more deaths were reported before midnight. Most of these were of persons who succumbed to the heat in the streets and died on the way to hospitals.

Joliet, Ill., June 30.—Two men are dead here, and 15 others are reported in serious condition as a result of the intense heat.

Cincinnati, June 30.—Two deaths and a dozen prostrations resulted from the heat wave here today. The government street level thermometer registered 104 degrees. Shortage of ice caused by a strike of ice house workers added to the suffering.

St. Louis, June 30.—Two deaths and seven prostrations were caused by the heat here today.

Detroit, June 30.—Eleven deaths from heat, and nearly a score of prostrations were reported in Detroit today. Of the dead, three were adults and eight infants.

Officially, the maximum temperature was 95 degrees, but the thermometer in the street of Kiosk registered 103.

At Grand Rapids 13 deaths and nearly 50 prostrations have occurred since Sunday morning.

JAPAN'S LATEST NOTE.

Viscount Chinda Has Document Additional to Last Rejoinder.

Washington, June 30.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, informed Secretary Bryan late today that the Japanese foreign office had dispatched to him for delivery to the United States a note additional to the last Japanese rejoinder in the matter of the California alien land law negotiations.

The communication is expected to arrive in the course of a day or so by cable, and the ambassador himself does not know its nature, beyond the fact that it is supplementary to the exhaustive argument contained in the rejoinder submitted to the State Department almost a month ago.

The effect of this notification was to suspend the preparation of Secretary Bryan's reply to the rejoinder, which already was under way and so near completion as to warrant the expectation that it would be ready for delivery before the end of the present week.

London, June 30.—Four men were today sentenced to pay fine of $10 or serve two weeks in jail. They were arrested during yesterday's rioting.

WALL STREET MUST SUPPLY WITNESSES

Senate Committee to Reopen Lobby Investigation Wednesday.

DECIDE TO RENEW ACTIVITY

Witnesses Wednesday Include Prominent New York Attorneys and Financiers—Chairman Overman Holds Conference

Washington, June 30.—Investigation of lobbyists and lobbies by the Senate will be reopened Wednesday with a number of prominent Wall Street men as witnesses. Chairman Overman, of the special committee decided today after a talk with President Wilson, and informal conferences with his committee assistants, to renew activity at once instead of waiting until July 8th, as he had planned.

Claims of Martin M. Mulhall, of Baltimore, that as lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers he had for years maintained close relations with members of Congress and financed their campaigns for re-election, have so intensified the feeling in Congressional circles that the Lobby committee has determined to proceed at once, and to interrogate all persons connected with any of the recent lobby disclosures.

Witnesses for Wednesday include Paul Cravath and Lewis Cass Ledyard, prominent New York attorneys, and David Lamar, Wall Street financier. The investigation will center about the charges made recently by Robert S. Lovett, of the Union Pacific Railroad, that many New York financiers and lawyers had been approached over the telephone by lobbyists, and persons representing themselves to be members of Congress.

Until this branch of the inquiry is disposed of, the committee probably will not take up the more recent disclosures of Mr. Mulhall, which have thus far appeared only in newspaper reproduction of his personal statement, and fac similes of letters he claims to have received, containing references to the efforts to control and influence members of Congress. Mulhall is under subpoenae to appear July 8th.

Steps already have been taken by the committee to get possession of the letters and papers Mr. Mulhall preserved, bearing upon his alleged operations as a lobbyist. Subpoenaes were issued today for James A. Emery, whom Mulhall described in his article as the 'chief lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers at Washington, for J. P. McMichael, former chief page of the House, whom Mulhall is reported as saying was in the employ of the manufacturers' association, and for a number of other persons named by Mulhall as having been active in the affairs of the association, and in connection with efforts to influence legislation to control elections to Congress.

Demands from members of the House for a separate investigation of the Mulhall charges by a special committee of that body were made in many quarters today. Representative Sherley, named in the Mulhall article as one whose support was expected on certain legislation, declared the House should proceed at once with its own investigation. Resolutions are expected at the session Wednesday calling for a special committee of investigation. The Senate committee has announced, however, that it will not hesitate to go into every phase of the Mulhall charges, including efforts to influence elections of members of the House. Senate committee members believe they have necessary authority to go into these features and if they don't find that they have they will ask for additional power from the Senate.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, a Democratic member of the committee, went to New York late this afternoon. It was believed here his hurried trip was in connection with getting witnesses or testimony bearing on the more recent developments that have followed the lobby probe.

President Wilson talked briefly with Chairman Overman during a visit to the capitol this afternoon, and expressed keen interest in developments. Earlier in the day the President informed callers at the White House that he believed the lobby investigation had fully served its purpose in disclosing the opposition that existed to certain features of the tariff bill.

Charges made by Mulhall are backed up, it is said, by thousands of letters, telegrams, circulars, expense statements and receipts, supporting hisstatements as to the active part he took for ten years in trying to shape legislation in Washington in behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers. These documents, the Senate committee expects to get as official records.

Discussing the Mulhall charges today President Wilson said he believed the lobby on tariff legislation had ceased to "embarrass anybody but itself."

When the President made his first declaration that "a numerous and insidious lobby" was operating in Washington, he had no idea that such charges as made by Mulhall would be brought out, but he added he was in favor of investigating all charges, and had no doubt the Senate committee would have a free hand. The President told his callers the accusations in the Mulhall statement had been called to his attention just before their publication.

Taken Into Custody

Late today McMichael, the former chief page, and now a capitol elevator operator, was taken into custody by Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Halsey and taken before Chairman Overman. He was released on promise to appear

OVERMAN REGISTERS PROTEST

Tells President Wilson Secretary Redfield Without Any Authority is Moving Frying Pan Light ship Out to Sea

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 30.—While President Wilson was at the capitol today Senator Overman took occasion to register a vigorous protest with him against the action of Secretary Redfield, which Senator Overman pronounced without authority, in sending the Frying Pan Shoals lightship 13 miles out to sea. Senator Overman said it should be returned to Frying Pan Shoals. The President promised to look into the matter at once.

Senator Overman, in beginning July 8th to probe the developments afforded in the Mulhall expose, will push inquiry to the limit. The friends of Representative Webb, whose name was referred to as one who might be "influenced" by the interests, are rallying to his defense and pointing out that his record is his best answer to such an imputation. Mr. Webb pronounces the accusation "utterly false" and he will aid the movement to have the House name a committee to investigate on its own hook the charges and to protect the integrity of its members. THE INCOME TAX SECTION.

Approved by Democrats of Senate in Caucus Last Night.

Washington, June 30.—Democrats of the Senate in late caucus late tonight approved the income tax section of the tariff bill as revised by the majority members of the Finance committee, voting, however, to strike out the amendment which would exempt mutual life insurance companies from the tax.

The action of the caucus came in the midst of lively debate which early had threatened to be prolonged, there being wide differences in opinions expressed as to the amount of the income exemption. As approved by the caucus the Senate Finance committee amendment stands exempting incomes of $3,000, for single persons, with $1,000 additional for a married man, or woman with a taxable income, and $500 for each dependent minor child not to exceed two. After many suggestions to extend the exemptions for dependents upon a family, the Democrats finally concluded that they were getting into deep water, and agreed to the committee change, which reduced the normal exemption as proposed in the House bill from $4,000 to $3,000.

The action of the caucus in striking out the mutual insurance company amendment was agreed upon just before adjournment and is to be reconsidered. In the House bill mutual life insurance companies were not exempted from the terms of the income tax and vigorous protests were made by all the great mutual life insurance companies to the Finance committee. It was finally agreed by the committee that the mutual companies not conducted for profits should have been exempted from the tax.

Senator Pomerene tonight made the motion to strike out this amendment and it was carried by a vote of 13 to 11. Because the caucus was so slimly attended, members of the committee thought the matter should be presented to the full Democratic membership and Senator Lewis, of Illinois, who had voted for the Pomerene motion moved to reconsider the matter. It will be taken up again tomorrow.

Settlement of the income section will complete the entire tariff bill with the exception of a few amendments which the committee has under consideration. The prospect now is that the caucus will get through tomorrow night, and that the bill will be reported to the Senate next week.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

W. J. Fausett, of Greensboro, Died Unlocking His Door.

Greensboro, N. C., June 30.—With his key in his front door, in the act of entering his home Saturday night, W. J. Fausett was killed by lightning on South Dairy street, this city. Neighbors found his dead body on the porch yesterday morning.

Mr. Fausett was 65 years old and lived alone. Saturday night he had visited his cousin, W. P. Thompson, a half block away, and when the storm came on, he said he must go at once, and left. Shortly afterward there were three heavy detonations from the cloud, and the house was struck, as was discovered later. The body was found lying on its back, with a small hole in the hat brim and a scar on the temple, and burns on the chest.

ELEVEN BOYS ARE DROWNED IN RIVER

Narrow Wooden Walk Leading to Bath House Collapses

VICTIMS CAUGHT IN SWIRL

Many Bodies in the Stream Unrecovered—Forty Youths Composed Party—Thousands Help in Work of Rescue

Lawrence, Mass., June 30.—A narrow wooden walk leading over 15 feet of water to the municipal bath house in the Merrimac river, today gave way under the stamping feet of a crowd of impatient boys, and at least eleven of the little fellows were drowned. There may be more bodies in the stream.

The boys ranging from 9 to 15, were waiting for W. M. Bythe, the bath house keeper to open the door. No one knew tonight now many there were in the party, but it is thought that forty is a conservative estimate. The boys were jumping up and down when the supports sank, and the walk extension dropped like a trap-door, rolling the lads into the water. There is a swift current at this point drawn by the falls a quarter of a mile below, and the youngsters were caught in the swirl.

Many of them could not swim.

Witnesses on the river bank said that all disappeared in a flash, but a moment later there was a struggling mass on the surface. The stronger ones who could swim struck out for the bath house, and a score saved themselves. Their cries brought aid and several others were pulled ashore. Five unconscious boys were brought from the water, and two of these finally were resuscitated. Efforts to restore others were futile. It was thought at first that only three were drowned and it was not until two hours later that the probable loss of life was realized. A boy in the crowd of distrated persons on shore, missing his chum, set up a cry: "I don't see Rollie. He must be drowned."

Boats and grappling irons were then brought, and the river bed was dragged. When the work ceased late tonight 12 bodies had been recovered.

Most of the youths were from the mill district, and when word of the accident reached these homes thousands crowded the river bank. In the confusion parents lost track of their children and fearing they had been in the swimming party, besieged the police with inquiries. All the bodies recovered tonight were identified.

Frank McDonald, a deep sea diver, summoned from Boston, began a search of the river bottom. After two hours' fruitless labor he suspended operations for the night.

DELAY CURRENCY BILL.

Committeemen Take a Week Off to Think It Over.

Washington, June 30.—The speed of the smoothly geared legislative machinery planned to rush the administration currency bill through the House with dispatch was reduced today at a conference of Democratic members of the House Banking and Currency committee.

The majority members decided to allow themselves a week to think the bill over. They will meet again next Monday to plan the course of the measure through the committee, to take up the question of holding public hearings on the bill, and to discuss a proposition to make all committee deliberations open to the public. Meantime, Chairman Glass was authorized to select an expert to advise with the committee. Mr. Parker Willis, of New York, may be chosen.

Some of the Democratic members thought a little more time for considering the bill would be advisable, but others evinced willingness to vote at once.

"There is no disposition on the part of any member of the Banking and Currency committee to delay consideration of the bill," said Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, a new Democratic member of the committee. "Every member seems to be anxious to take up the bill, and proceed as fast as possible with it consistently, with due deliberation. If we should have daily sessions we might be able to report the bill by July 14th."

Members of the Senate Banking and Currency committee said they expected to begin work on the bill within two weeks, although no definite plans would be made until the House committee had begun consideration of the measure.

BRENNAN SLUGS M'GRAW.

Exasperated Philadelphia Pitcher Knocks Down N. Y. Manager.

Philadelphia, June 30.—Manager John McGraw, of the New York National League baseball club, was knocked down by two blows on the jaw delivered by Pitcher Brennan of the Philadelphia National League Club after today's contest between the two teams.

The New York manager was walking across the field talking with another Philadelphia player. Nearly all the spectators had left the grounds. Suddenly Brennan sprang toward him and swung his right hand to McGraw's jaw, landing above his chin and followed it quickly with a second blow from his left hand which landed below the ear. McGraw dropped before he saw who had hit him. Later he declared that he must have been kicked, but other players who had quickly pulled Brennan away declare that only two blows were struck. McGraw soon recovered.

Brennan declares he was exasperated beyond the limit of endurance by taunts directed during the game by the New York manager at members of the local team.

COURT'S DECREE ENDS THE HARRIMAN COMBINE

Federal Judges Approve Plans for Dissolution of Merger as Presented by Attorneys—Years of Litigation Ended by Decision—Proposal Meets With President Wilson's Approval

St. Paul, Minn., June 30.—Federal Judges Walter H. Sanborn, William C. Hook and Walter I. Smith, sitting as the district court of the United States for the District of Utah, approved late today plans agreed upon by the attorney general, and attorneys for the Union Pacific Railroad, and the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger, known as the Harriman combine, practically came to an end.

The decree signed today will become effective with its filing in the Federal Court at Salt Lake City, which probably will take place next Wednesday or Thursday.

With the handing down of the final decree years of litigation came to an end, the first suit of the government to dissolve the merger having been filed at Salt Lake City in 1908.

The decision today came as a surprise. There was a brief sparring this morning at which the government was represented by G. Carroll Todd, special assistant to the attorney general, and the road by N. H. Loomis and H. W. Clarke. The court then took the case under advisement. A number of times the judges called in attorneys for both sides to question them further, but there was no hint that a decree would be given today.

Shortly before 4 o'clock Judge Sanborn, presiding announced that the court had decided to enter a final decree approving the plan with only one important exception. This exception was the naming of Louis C. Krauthoff, of New York City, as a commissioner of the court to see to it that the letter and spirit of the plan be carried out. The court also directed him to report to it from time to time.

In brief, the plan, which has the approval of President Wilson, provides that the Union Pacific shall exchange $38,000,000 of its $126,000,000 holdings in the Southern Pacific for the Pennsylvania Railroad's entire holdings in the Baltimore & Ohio—virtually an equal amount; that the remaining $88,000,000 shall be sold to the general public through the Central Trust Company, of New York, that no present stockholders in the Union Pacific, continuing as such, may buy any of the Southern Pacific stock so sold, that the transaction should begin November 1, 1913, and if not complete by January 1st, 1916, the court should direct the disposition of any Southern Pacific stock remaining unsold.

By the decision today the court disregarded the desire of the attorney general that final decision be withheld for the interposing of objections by interested parties, to which portion of the attorney general's plan Mr. Loomis made objection at the hearing today as unfair to the road. The attorney general also had asked in this connection that there be publication of the plan as in the American Tobacco Company case, calling the attention of interested parties that objection might be made, but this also was overruled by the handing down of the decree by the court.

"We deem a decree of dissolution more necessary at the present time than any other action," said Judge Sanborn after announcing the decree.

The government, however, in the plan presented today and approved by the court, expressly stipulated that should any illegal conditions arise from the exchange of stocks either under future expectation, or future interpretation by the courts of present statutes, the government would have the right "freely to assail" the arrangement.

Mr. Todd, who left tonight for Washington, and Mr. Clarke and Mr. Loomis, who left for New York, and Omaha, respectively, declined to discuss the decree of the court.

When the suit of the government to dissolve the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger was filed in the Federal Circuit Court for the District of Utah in 1908, the Circuit Court for the Eighth District was composed of Judge Willis Van DeVanter, now on the Supreme bench; Walter H. Sanborn, St. Paul, and William C. Hook, Leavenworth.

Elmer B. Adams, St. Louis, was appointed an examiner to take testimony. Witnesses were examined in all parts of the United States, the evidence was submitted to the Circuit Court, and in October, 1910, the case was argued in St. Paul.

On June 24th, 1911, a majority of the court decided that the case of the government was not sustained, but Judge Hook filed a dissenting opinion, holding that the merger of the two railway systems was a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The government appealed the case to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Circuit Court and on December 1st, 1912, the Supreme Court handed down a decree reversing the lower court, upholding in the main the dissenting opinion of Judge Hook and sending the case back to the Federal Court for the District of Utah for an enforcement of the decree dissolving the merger.

Between the time of the filing of the original suit, and the decree of the Supreme Court, Congress had abolished the Circuit Court, and assigned their jurisdiction to district courts providing that the circuit court judges, who constitute the circuit court, also should sit as district judges. It is under this law that the circuit judges in this case sat as the district court of Utah.

After the first tentative plan of dissolution was presented to the court at St. Louis, February 24th, 1913, a number of modes of procedure providing for untangling the merger were suggested but the objections were raised against each. The principal point upon which the government and railroad representatives were unable to agree was the disposal of Union Pacific holdings, of Southern Pacific stock, amounting to $126,000,000.

On April 21st, 1913, representatives of the Union Pacific made application to Judges Sanborn, Hook and Smith at St. Paul for an extension of the time within which to present a plan mended to the Supreme Court that of dissolution. The judges recommended such an extension be granted and shortly afterward the Supreme Court placed as a time limit July 1st, 1913.

On June 12th, 1913, two dissolution plans were presented at a hearing in St. Paul. Objections were made to the plans in part, but out of the suggestion made then that Southern Pacific stock be traded for Pennsylvania holdings of the Baltimore & Ohio came the plan agreed to today.

McReynolds' Attitude.

Washington, June 30.—Scarcely had publicity been given to the government-approved plan for dissolution of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific railroad merger at St. Paul today before comment was heard upon its reflection of the attitude of Attorney General McReynolds towards the "trusts." It was generally recognized that the plan marked a distinct departure in the dissolution of offending corporations under the Sherman anti-trust law. Particularly was the plan compared with the Standard Oil and Tobacco dissolution decrees.

Supporters of the administration pointed out that the plan avoided the mistakes of the former dissolution decrees in that it made it impossible for the stockholders to exert the restraints on trade forbidden to the corporation. In the Standard Oil and Tobacco decrees, they said, the stockholders were left free to hold stock in the rival corporations, which succeeded the parent corporation thus affecting a dissolution only in name, and that what the offending corporation did before the decree the stockholders have been doing since the decree. It was declared that the difficulty of the stockholders acting in unison has not been sufficient to bring about competition among the subsidiary companies.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF.

Match Between Teams of Professionals Begun Yesterday.

La Boulie, France, June 30.—The International golf match between teams of professionals, representing France and the United States, opened here today with two four-ball games. John J. McDermott, the national champion, and Tom. McNamara, Metropolitan open title holder, were beaten by the Frenchmen Louis Tellier and Arnaud Massy, by 3 up and 2 to play. Michael J. Brady of Wollaston, and Alex Smith of Wykagyl, the American captain, were beaten by Jean Gassjat and Pierre Laffitte, by a similar score.

The Frenchmen have thus won two points out of a possible six and the Americans must win all of the four single matches which make up tomorrow's programme to win the series.

GIANTS GAIN THE PINNACLE

Took the Top With Yesterday's Victory Over Phillies—Rucker Bows to Braves—Cubs and Cardinals Won Openers.

Kindly turn to that mathematical proposition entitled the Standing of the Teams, which is located due northeast from these lines, and when you have observed that the New York Giants are occupying the position at the masthead of the column, give a long cheer for New York and at the end of it add the name Brooklyn.

For, to use the favorite slang expression of the year, "what it took to supply the necessary co-operation, Brooklyn had it," and to them is due in a great measure the triumph of the Giants.

The Giants took yesterday's opener at Philadelphia by a 10 to 11 score, the game extending into a 10-inning affair after the Phillies had tied it up in the eighth inning. Tesreau pitched three innings when he was retired in favor of Wiltse, who went the route until the seventh, when the locals pounced on him for three scores. Masterful Matty was then requisitioned and answered the call in his usual manner, holding the Phils down while the Giants put across the winning run by the Snodgrass route in the 10th.

Nap. Rucker bowed before the Boston Braves yesterday afternoon, retiring in the fourth inning after six runs had been scored by the visitors. The Braves won by a 9 to 1 score.

Jimmy Lavender was invincible, as usual, and the Chicago Cubs won from Pittsburg, 12 to 2, Lavender holding the Pirates to three bingles.

The St. Louis Cardinals won the opener from the Cincinnati Reds, the locals using three twirlers in an endeavor to crab the activities of their visitors.

Giants Reach Pinnacle.

Philadelphia, June 30.—New York went into first place in the National League race today by defeating Philadelphia 11 to 10 in 10 innings. The game was featured by many exciting incidents and numerous good and bad plays by each team. The winning run was scored by Snodgrass who beat out a grounder, took second on Burns' out and scored on Herzog's single to left.

WINS ANOTHER VICTORY

American Lawn Tennis Champion Defeats Formidable Foe

Mimbledon, England, June 30.—Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, the young American lawn tennis champion, today brilliantly cleared another fence barring his way to the title of all-England champion, which is practically accepted as the world's lawn tennis championship, by beating the formidable J. C. Parke, Irish and Scottish champion, by three straight sets in the semi-final round.

Americans on the ground were ready before the match to wager the Statue of Liberty on the chances of their champion, and as soon as the match started there was never a doubt as to who would win. No match in recent years had so stirred the tennis world, and fully 5,000 enthusiasts gathered 'round the center court on the championship ground to witness the great struggle.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Light Docket for Monday Morning. Bud Anderson Sent to Roads.

Considering the fact that it was Monday morning the Recorder had a light docket yesterday. Bud Anderson, colored, was sent to the roads for six months for assault with deadly weapon. The alleged offense was committed last week, but Anderson has been held pending the decision of the Chadbourn authorities as to what disposition should be made of a case against him there. The evidence against Anderson was that he drew a gun on a negro woman who was with his wife at the time. He is wanted in Chadbourn for shooting another negro and will be turned over to the authorities as soon as he completes his term here.

Fred Davis, colored, who was charged with selling a quart of whiskey for 80 cents on or about June 14th, was found guilty and sentenced to serve six months on the roads. Louise Clemmons, who was charged with the larceny of some clothes from the home of L. Clayton Grant, Esq., was sentenced to six months on the county farm with the privilege of being hired out, if the County Commissioners see fit to do so.

Lillie Johnson, colored, who was charged with a violation of the prohibition law, was discharged, it appearing that while she had more than a gallon of whiskey in her possession that she did not have it for the purpose of sale.

Judgment in the case against Son Mills, colored, tried last week for larceny, was again continued, this time until tomorrow. Walter McGuire, colored, who was found in a residence one night about two weeks ago and was unable to give a satisfactory explanation of his presence there, has been discharged, investigation satisfying the officers that he did not enter the home with any criminal intent.

ATHLETICS WON WITH EASE

Yankees Were Yesterday's Victims for Mackmen—Naps Beat Browns—Senators Won from Red Sox—Chicago Also Won

Eddie Plank, veteran of thirteen major league seasons of baseball and now at his best, was on the job yesterday and defeated the New York Yankees in the opening session of the series at New York, score six to nothing. Plank held the locals to three scattered hits and at no time was there a near-score by the Chancemen.

Numerous misplays by the St. Louis Browns aided the Cleveland Naps to win yesterday's game, the locals outhitting them two to one, but with the apparent inability to bunch them in sufficient numbers to cause sufficient leakage across the plate to win. Vean Gregg was on the mound for the Naps and gets credit for another decisive victory.

Joe Wood weakened after 11 innings of strenuous work in yesterday's game with Washington and the Senators put two runs across and won the opening game three to one. Groom held up well until the seventh, when Griff injected Johnson into the game. Walter held the Red Sox to one hit in four innings, and gets credit for winning the game.

The Chicago White Sox won by hard and opportune hitting the first game of the series with the Detroit Tigers.

At the evening concert the orchestra occupied chairs in the center of the auditorium which made it much cooler for the musicians, and also easier for the persons occupying the upper pavilion to hear the music.

Dr. Reston Stevenson and Mr. Julian Springs, of Lake Waccamaw, went from Wilmington to Wrightsville Beach Saturday in a canoe. They started early in the morning, but on account of a hard wind which they struck as they were passing out of the inlet near the "Rocks," their journey was prolonged, and they did not reach their destination until about 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Atlanta Constitution: "Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otis, Miss Margaret Doonan, Mr. Terence Doonan and Mr. Peter Clein will go to Wrightsville on the 10th.—Misses Helen and Genevieve Morris will go to Wrightsville Beach the middle of July.—Miss Sophie Haas leaves Tuesday to join a party of friends at Wrightsville for a yachting trip. She will also visit at Atlantic City and Long Beach.—Miss Margaret Haverty will go to Wrightsville Beach the middle of July."

Last night there was an elaborate and costly display of fireworks at Lumina, which was witnessed by a large crowd, more than 1,000 going down from the city. The pyrotechnic display was given from the floating dock recently received by the Tidewater Power Company in Banks Channel in full view of Lumina. Hitherto the fireworks have been on the ocean side of the pavilion, but the building of the bridge and boardwalk from Lumina to the water's edge on the sound side and the purchase of the floating dock have made it possible to give these exhibitions on the sound side. Seats have been erected along the sound front for the benefit of those who desire to witness these exhibitions, which are also in full view of the overhead bridge at Lumina. Another display of this nature will be given in the early future, probably next week. It was stated last night that the Tidewater Power Company will likely begin in a few days to double the width of the walkway from the bridge at Lumina to the water's edge.

"POLLY PEACHTREE" WRITES OF THE BEACH

"Polly Peachtree" writes the principal society news and notes of the Atlanta Sunday American, which paper makes society news a strong feature. The bright, interesting comments and the original manner in which "Polly Peachtree" treats ordinary social events make the columns she contributes of interest even to people who do not know the persons written about. This is by way of introduction, for she is evidently fond of Wrightsville Beach, as all other Atlantans who have been there are, as "Polly Peachtree" herself once said, as every Sunday there is some complimentary reference to the resort. Last Sunday was no exception. Following are some of the items taken from Sunday's American:

"A spangled inky cloth, the sky;
A silver lamp, the moon;
And tender, cooling lips, the winds,
That whisper: 'It is June.'"

"As milady climbs into the narrow sleeping place that Mr. Pullman left as a terrible legacy to all travelers, she tries to forget the long journey between Atlanta and the sea. Most potent to assist her toward this much-to-be desired end are the fond memories that hover over the long pier that juts out over the Atlantic behind the Seashore Hotel.

"That pier is the favored place for all the 'spooners' at Wrightsville Beach, and right after dinner it is most amusing for non-contestants to see the couples hurry out in order to be first on the scene, where two by two the chairs are placed to face the sea, and the waves, coming in from the far coast of Africa, are the only intruders of the silence.

"Once a couple is ensconed, they are reasonably sure of not being interfered with, until they get ready to go, then almost imperciptible, as their forms are lost in the semi-darkness of the promenade two other Summer sweethearts slip into their seats. And it isn't always young girls and boys who take advantage of Wrightsville's 'spooning place,' for flirtations are always in order there, among young and old, married and single—as well as at all other Summer resorts.

"It's a privilege of these places which makes flirtations innocuous. It looks to me like Wrightsville Beach is to be the favorite resort for Atlantans this year, as last. Many people have gone within the past week and more still leave next week.

"Mrs. John Kiser, Mrs. Harry Stearns, Mrs. J. Frank Meador, Mrs. Claude Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ansley and the Misses Ansley, Miss Sallie Cobb Johnson, Mrs. Marshall McKenzie, Mrs. Rix Stafford, Mrs. Edward VanWinkle, Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, Mrs. Valdemar Gude are among the many who will repeat their last season's visits to Wrightsville Beach.

"Mrs. Frank Pearson will sing at Lumina again this season. Mrs. Pearson made a great 'hit' last year, crowds of Wilmington people coming out for the concerts at which she sang every Sunday, as well as practically all the guests of the several hotels and the occupants of the beach Summer homes.

'I like to fish where willows jut
O'er waters rippling by,
Such scenes are very pleasing, but
The fish are very shy.
'The fish are very shy, alas,
Which helps to spoil our day,
And then, the bugs, it comes to pass,
Are just the other way!'

"I hear that the fad for dancing has extended to all the Summer resorts and at Wrightsville Beach, Atlantic Beach, Asheville and Toxaway, dancing is as much in evidence as in Atlanta, where dances are becoming more and more numerous. The afternoon affairs for visitors of late have been dancing teas. I understand that some of the hostesses of these affairs object to the name of 'tango tea,' by which this form of entertaining is known in other circles.

"Miss Edith Watts and Miss Helen Taylor left Thursday for Columbia, S. C., to visit Mrs. Walter Keenan, who was a very popular visitor here in May. After a ten-day visit in Columbia, Misses Watts and Taylor chaperoned by Mrs. Keenan, will go to Wrightsville Beach, where they will spend several weeks.

"Mrs. H. G. Kuhrt, with her two daughters, Misses Isabel and Lucile Kuhrt, leave early next month for Wrightsville Beach."

In writing of the Players' Club, of Atlanta, "Polly Peachtree" had the following to say of Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, who is well known at the beach where she spends several weeks every year:

"I am one of many who think Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan is one of the sweetest, prettiest and cleverest women of Atlanta, and certainly she was at her most fascinating best in the role of leading lady that night. She danced the one-step with grace, sang a frivolous little French song beautifully, and was altogether adorable in her part. Mrs. Jarnigan has appeared in several performances of the Players' Club and has achieved an artistic success with each of her creations."

DIED SUDDENLY SUNDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Lodge Found Dead in Bed Sunday Morning at Seagate

Mrs. Elizabeth Lodge, mother of Mrs. D. Mataxas, was found dead in her bed Sunday morning at Seagate. It is supposed that death was due to heart failure as she had not been ill before her death, and only an hour before was conversing with her daughter. The body was embalmed and, accompanied by Mrs. Mataxas, was taken to Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday night where interment will be made.

Mrs. Lodge had made her home with Adjutant and Mrs. D. Mataxas, of the Salvation Army, for several years. She was 69 years old, and was much loved and esteemed by those who knew her for her many beautiful traits of character. Mr. and Mrs. Mataxas have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Don't Wait for the Wood to Show Before You Paint!

Postponing painting is like putting off payment of taxes. You are only piling up expense. The wise man paints often, so that there is always a protecting film of paint between his house and the elements. The more durable the paint, the less often this must be done.

The most durable paint in the world is

Lewis White Lead

(Dutch Boy Painter Trade-Mark)
and Lewis Dutch Boy Linseed Oil

when mixed to suit the conditions of the wood. All good painters do it this way. Make sure that yours does it, too, and that he uses Lewis colors to tint it.

You can buy these painting materials at your dealer's. All good dealers realize that a house white-leaded is a house well painted.

THE STATE'S OPPORTUNITY.

Between the ambition of Wilmington to become a great commercial city and the absolute necessity for North Carolina to have a deep water ocean gateway, the time is propitious for the business men of Wilmington to make use of the present campaign for lower freight rates for the purpose of emphasizing the present potentialities and future possibilities of Wilmington as a deep water port. That is not only necessary to secure relief for North Carolina in matters of transportation, but to provide the facilities for carrying on the commerce of the State.

It would be a great mistake in the business of Wilmington not to take advantage of the aroused interest in the State as to the necessity of a greater North Carolina port, to the end that all sections of the State may turn their eyes this way. Now is the time to work up State-wide sentiment towards backing up the project of deepening the Cape Fear bar and for providing a 30 or 35 foot channel from Wilmington to sea.

Up State practically little is known of the State's ocean outlet by way of the Cape Fear. It is not known that it is of prime importance to the whole State to have a deep water gateway to the high sea. Most communities have been disposed to look upon river and harbor improvement at Wilmington as a mere local concern, whereas the gateway is an asset of the entire State and can be made a greater asset for both Wilmington and the State. The campaign for just freight rates, and especially the Maxwell address, is emphasizing this fact as it never has been done before. We ought to take advantage of it to make a wholesome impression upon the State.

Just at present there is some contention over the views of Mr. Maxwell as to the feasibility of establishing an independent steamship line. The incident should not be allowed to detract from the availability of the port of Wilmington and Southport for taking care of and promoting the commercial and manufacturing interests of the State. A deep water port would be a great developer of all the resources of the State. It is not of local significance only, for there is not a monufacturing or business centre in the State that is not concerned. The question of an independent steamship line is only incidental to the main question—that of North Carolina's co-operation in seeing that the State secures deep water for her ocean gateway. Mr. Tate, a live, progressive man of High Point, seems to think Wilmington is most interested in securing an independent steamship line, but as a matter of fact, such a line has been suggested for the relief of North Carolina. Naturally Wilmington would be a beneficiary along with the balance of the State, but the success of that or any other line would depend on co-operation throughout North Carolina. No line could help North Carolina without being an advantage to Wilmington. No line could possibly be of advantage to Wilmington without being of advantage to the State in some way or other. It could be of most advantage to the State only by co-operation of the manufacturing and business communities of the State.

Wilmington, of course, recognizes the great advantages that deep water would be to the State and to the port of Wilmington, but if business could not be drawn to the port from the interior and be forwarded through the port to a large distributing territory it could not be expected that North Carolina could be fully advantaged by greater shipping facilities. It is not one steamship line but several that would be of most advantage to North Carolina, and first of all the main thing to do is to make a greater port in order to get better steamship service and provide the ships with business. We will only get the service that we sustain, or that the State sustains, we should rather say.

Lower rates or even export rates would draw business to the port for such ships as many engage in commerce there. It can be guaranteed that no ships will come unless they can get cargoes, and the only way they can get cargoes is to get them from the producing communities of the State. High Point needs an ocean outlet for her furniture manufactures. North Carolina is the second furniture manufacturing State in the Union and High Point is the second furniture manufacturing city in the country. Yet, no furniture comes here for export. Mr. Tate can very well conceive that if High Point could reach the Latin American trade through Wilmington and increase its business by coastwise shipments it would add to the great furniture industry of High Point.

If freights were lowered to and from such industrial and business centers as High Point, Charlotte, Greensboro, etc., it would make them greater competitors of Wilmington and other jobbing centers, but no facilities for transportation could benefit them without a proportionate benefit to Wilmington. The terminals and intermediate cities on a railroad share proportionally in the development of a new line, and so it is that every place goes upward and onward when the transportation facilities of the country are increased, either by rail or water.

Don't let us forget the main point—deeper water at Wilmington and Southport. That will bring up traffic and the ships. The traffic and the ships will wonderfully develop North Carolina. Last week a ship with a cargo of nitrates from Chile came up to Wilmington drawing twenty-five and one-third feet of water. That is the record draft here, and as little as central Carolina, or the territory dependent upon this port, thinks about it, they share in the benefits of the ocean gateway that brings this distribution here. Their share will be greater as the depth of water here is increased.

A SANE FOURTH.

Just three days from now Independence Day will be ushered in, but it is to be hoped it will not be celebrated in the "usual manner." If it is, the newspapers on the morning of the 5th will chronicle the usual number of violent deaths and Fourth of July celebration calamities, an annual chronicle that shocks the world as well as the nation. The list of Fourth of July casualties always includes a great proportion of boys and youth, who are killed or maimed or injured for life. In view of that fact it is well to appeal for a sane celebration of the Fourth.

Boys are careless with explosives and fireworks, and they need to be cautioned and safeguarded by parents in communities where celebrations are conducted with perfect abandon. We shall have enough distressing occurrences at best, but forewarning is the best prevention of the annual chapter of horrors to be read the morning after Independence Day.

Let us hope that the 137th anniversary of American Independence will not be signalized with a casualty list larger than most of the battles of the Revolution.

A line of steamers to Wilmington would create the tonnage necessary for a basis for the Corporation Commission to work on, and with its power to fix intra-State rates, a rate could be made that would be reflected in the uttermost parts of the State. That is the situation we should labor to bring about.

Apparently what some of them want is not lower freight rates, but a chance to soak the railroads. To them it would doubtless be a bitter disappointment if they got fair rates all of a sudden and were deprived of the hope that some fair day they could glut their desire for raising legislative cain.

If the people who drive automobiles spinning by the right side of stationary street cars were pinched every time they thus violate the law, they would soon cease this practice, which is always loaded with the possibility, and, indeed, probability, of serious injury or death to street car passengers.

If it's from El Paso it may be true but not necessarily so.

CURRENT COMMENT.

If every man interested in better freight rates insists upon his own particular plan being adopted it will be pie for the railroads.—Durham Herald.

Mr. A. J. Maxwell, clerk to the Corporation Commission, is to be commended for the general tone of his statement in reply to Mr. Fred N. Tate, in the matter of a steamship line as an antidote for the freight rate evil. Mr. Maxwell's first proposition was based on facts which those interested in the correction of unjust freight rates must face. Dr. Richmond Harding, of Davidson, wanted to know if Maxwell's presentation of the case was merely a statement of unpalatable fact, and that is exactly what it was. The Observer may be mistaken, but it seems to this paper that there is just a little feeling of jealousy on the part of the Just Freight Rate Association. If that is the case, then all such feeling should be eradicated. The association is directing its efforts to an extra session of the Legislature. In the meantime, every helpful suggestion should be welcomed—and we class Mr. Maxwell's idea in that category. It should be given consideration. We do not believe it comes from a meddler, but from a well-posted authority and from a man who, by reason of the position he holds, is equipped to do the State some service in the direction of the end desired.—Charlotte Observer.

Not Wanted Now at Chadbourn.

Bud Anderson, colored, who has been kept in the city prison for several days on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was yesterday sent over to the Recorder, and given a six-month road sentence. After Anderson's confession Saturday afternoon that he had shot a man at Chadbourn, Chief of Police Williams immediately wired the Chadbourn authorities, and received a reply Sunday to the effect that on account of the fact that the negro whom he is said to have shot could not be located they would not push this case as they had no prosecuting witnesses. Late yesterday afternoon Chief Williams received a message from the Deputy Sheriff at Chadbourn, stating that they would want Anderson as soon as he had completed his sentence in New Hanover. The nature of the crime for which he was wanted was not stated.

Lupus Worst Form of Skin Diseases

Here is a Home Treatment that Overcomes even Worst Cases.

Blood Disorders are Banished by S. S. S.

A tiny pimple spreads to the side of the face and often covers the cheeks and bridge of the nose. It is very destructive to the glands of the skin. No external treatments will overcome it, as the cause of lupus is from impurities in the blood supply. The only known method of cure is to get the blood supply under the control of S. S. S., the famous blood specific. Its action is quite remarkable and has direct influence upon the network of small blood vessels and glands in the skin.

From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence in all the digestive organs. It is certainly a wonderful blood medicine, and is prepared direct from native materials gathered by the experts of the famous Swift Laboratory. Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 183 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes. S. S. S. is what you need.

SPECIAL AUDITORS REPORT

Received at Called Meeting of Council Yesterday Morning—Recommendations Are Taken Under Consideration

At the called meeting of the City Council yesterday morning report of the special auditors was received, but consideration of the recommendations contained therein was postponed until a later meeting, members of the Council in the meanwhile to go over the document carefully and study each item in it. The report is very lengthy and is taken up largely with exhibits of a statistical nature. That part of the report which is written and which contains the recommendations are given below.

The special auditors are Mr. J. B. McCabe, manager of the Carolina Audit and Adjustment Co., of Wilmington, and Mr. G. G. Scott, president of the Charlotte Audit Co., Charlotte, N. C. They spent about two weeks in getting up the report. The audit cost the city about $500. Following is the report:

"Hon. P. Q. Moore, Mayor, Wilmington, N. C.

"Dear Sir: Pursuant to the request of the Councilman of Accounts and Finance, we have jointly audited and examined the books and records representing the accounting system of the City of Wilmington, covering a period beginning June 1st, 1911, and ending May 31st, 1913, and have prepared therefrom four exhibits designated 'A' to 'D,' inclusive, and seven schedules numbered one to seven, inclusive, all of which are attached hereto and made a part of our report.

"Your attention is respectfully directed to 'exhibit A balance sheet of the current assets and current liabilities' at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1913.

"It will be seen that the cash on hand per bank books, including the cash in office and certificates of deposit aggregate $92,851.11, from which we have deducted the outstanding checks amounting to $20,150.78, leaving a net cash balance applicable to ensuing year amounting to $72,700.33.

"In the financial statements heretofore submitted, outstanding checks have been treated as warrants payable instead of deductions from cash balance. You can clearly understand that if the amount of cash on hand is made up of bank balances without taking into consideration the outstanding checks, the statistical value of a cash statement is destroyed.

"We carefully totalized the uncollected taxes of the years 1910, 1911 and 1912, also the amount of back taxes uncollected previous to the year 1910 as shown by the tax books, aggregating $61,562.56, which may include the legal penalties. It is the opinion of the tax collector, also our opinion, that the maximum realizable value will not exceed $25,000, and we have therefore created a reserve of $36,562.56 to cover errors and noncollectable taxes as shown in the balance sheet, in order that our statement of the current assets may represent that which is realizable.

"We have also included as current assets the uncollected sidewalk assessments, unpaid bills of the Water and Sewerage Department, rents, departmental inventories of supplies and other miscellaneous items shown in the balance sheet, making total current assets, exclusive of sinking funds, $115,662.09.

"The current indebtedness of the city is represented by notes payable amounting to $46,500 and interest accrued on outstanding bonds amounting to $27,250. We note that it has not been the custom of taking into consideration in preparing financial statements of the city, any reserve for accrued interest on outstanding bonds, nor has any reserve been created heretofore upon the books to cover this liability. In order to set forth a true and correct statement of the financial condition of the city at the closeof its fiscal year,it is necessary to provide for all accrued liabilities. It is clear thatthe omission of an important amount of this character in a balance sheet of the current assets and liabilities would seriously effect the accuracy thereof, and show a balance that would be incorrect to the extent of the amount of the deferred items.

"As shown in the balance sheet 'exhibit A' the fiscal year closed with a deficit of $30,066.98.

"The schedule of the property assets and bond liabilities of the city are presented in a separate statement designated balance sheet 'exhibit B.' The assets are divided into two divisions, departmental equipment and fixed properties. The value of the equipment is based upon inventories submitted by the department heads, and the value of the fixed properties taken from the books, and no attempt was made by us to verify same.

"We have prepared from the vouchers, cancelled bank checks and book records of the treasurer's office a comparative classified statement of receipts and disbursements marked 'exhibit C,' covering the period under review, separating the ordinary from the extraordinary.

"The ordinary receipts and disbursements consist of the regular departmental revenues and expenses. The extraordinary receipts and disbursements are represented by street improvement transactions, proceeds from bond sales and such other receipts and disbursements as do not pertain to regular departmental operations.

"The ordinary receipts for the fiscal year just closed amounted to $282,385.21 as against $218,563.40 for the year preceding, showing a net gain of $63,821.75, or over 22 per cent.

"The disbursements for the year just closed amounted to $307,494.71, as against $270,306.61 for the year preceding, showing an increase in the ordinary expenses of the departments amounting to $37,188.10, or over 11 per cent. The ordinary receipts of the past fiscal year exceeded the ordinary disbursements, $18,826.63, and the ordinary disbursements of the year preceding exceeded its receipts $17,095.02.

"On account of the inadequate system of accounting it was necessary in order to determine the cost of the water and sewerage system, to prepare a statement of receipts and disbursements as shown by the books covering the period representing the city's ownership, which is designated 'exhibit D,' and shows that the net operating revenues were as follows:

"Year ending March 31st, 1910, $13,118.74; year ending March 31st, 1911, $10,697.23; year ending March 31st, 1912, $7,740.29, year ending March 31st, 1913, $11,326.42; two months ending May 31st, 1913, $4,444.17, a total of $47,326.76.

"This does not take into consideration the interest on the water and sewerage bonds, nor any revenue for the water consumed by the city fire hydrants, street sprinkling, sewer flushing, public buildings, etc.

"Out of the total net operating reve-

Sunday Law Discussed.

The Sunday law, which has been engaging so much attention in Council, came up yesterday before the Commissioners. A delegation of Delgado citizens appeared and stated that there were two shops near the Baptist church which were open all day Sunday, selling soft drinks; and that two more were on the Castle street road, all being out of the city limits; that they were a nuisance, young and old congregating around them, and that their effect on the community was made. Would the Commissioners please do something?

The Commissioners called on County Attorney Marsden Bellamy and he informed them that they could not do anything about it. Mr. Bellamy went on to say that while he was opposed to a wide open Sunday, he could not advise the Commissioners to enact a law which the State Legislature itself has not enacted and which it refused to enact at its last session. He handed out some very interesting information to the effect that the only Sunday legislation in this State was made in 1741, to the effect that anybody breaking the Sabbath could be made to pay $1 penalty. The Supreme Court has held that selling stuff on Sunday is not a crime; in fact, in law as it appears on the books in North Carolina, and through several decisions of the courts, Sunday is no more than any other day, although the courts have moralized soundly on the fact that there ought to be one day, as a matter of public policy and in accord with the teachings of morality and philosophy, in which all ordinary labors should be suspended and rest and recreation observed. A city may have the right to enact a Sunday law, though Mr. Bellamy said that there was division as to that; but it is certain that the county has no power to do anything.

The Commissioners expressed their sympathy for the position of the Delgado citizens and promised their aid if aid there be. The only possible relief, it was pointed out, may be in bringing indictments for nuisance, if the shops prove so to be.

Coroner's Electon Deferred.

The board again deferred the election of a coroner. Commissioner McGirt nominated Mr. M. H. Brimmer, but the idea of leaving it to the next regular monthly meeting on Monday prevailed, and Mr. McGirt withdrew his motion.

On motion of Commissioner McGirt the salary of Road Superintendent R. A. Burnett was increased from $100 to $125 a month. There was an informal understanding when Mr. Burnett was employed that his salary would be increased in about six months. The board appreciates his work, Chairman Willard declaring that outside of the auditor's office, the county was getting more for its money in the office of road superintendent than in any other department.

Mr. Galvin, of the Carolina Metal Products Co., appeared before the board and made a short talk about culverts, the board stating that none was needed now, but later when road work demanded culverts, he would be shown consideration.

Caroline Ennett, on recommendation of Dr. Nesbitt, superintendent of health, was placed on the out-door poor list, in Harnett township. An order was made to pay $5 to Treasurer H. L. Vollers, of the State organization of County Commissioners, as the county's annual membership fee. The East Wilmington convict camp reported the escape of Isaac Jenkins, colored, from the chain gang last week.

An Expensive Convict.

The board received and approved a bill from the sheriff's office for $120, for two guards who, night and day, watch Albert Highsmith, colored, a negro held on charge of murder, at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Highsmith was operated on for appendicitis, and when they thought he might be discharged this week, it was discovered that he would have to undergo another operation for rupture. The guards get $1.50 each, per day; and it does not appear how long the expense will have to be borne by the county. He has been in the hospital since the 27th of May.

Commissioner Moore reported the Northeast river bridge was opened Thursday and is now being used by the public. He has employed a tender at $30 a month for the time being. It is the intention of the board to build a house for the bridge tender, and Mr. Hugh MacRae will likely give the site for it. This has not been settled. Pender county will bear her portion of the cost.

A map of the proposed Villa View road was exhibited, made by Civil Engineer Becton, a nice piece of work, and further consideration of the road was left with the road committee.

The permanent road committee was empowered to purchase a site for quarrying rock, the East Wilmington rock site to be abandoned shortly. Mr. Wm. Gregerson's place and several others were mentioned as having rock of quality suitable for road work.

The jury list, recently revised, was placed in the jury box of the Recorder's court, it being a duplicate of the one recently placed in the Superior Court jury box.

Present yesterday was the full board, county attorney, auditor and clerk. Auditor Orrell reported that he had not completed his work of locating and assessing all the automobiles in the county. Adjournment was taken at 5 o'clock until Monday, the 7th, at 3:30 P. M.

RURAL LETTER CARRIERS

Annual Convention to be Held Here Thursday and Friday of This Week—Interesting Programme Prepared.

The North Carolina Rural Letter Carriers' Association will hold its tenth annual convention in the United States Court room in this city Thursday and Friday of this week. There will be in attendance between 75 and 100 delegates. The local members of the association are making elaborate arrangements for their entertainment while they are in the city, and it is expected that this will be the most successful meeting that the association has had.

Since the announcement of the programme of the meeting was made in The Star a few weeks ago there have been several changes made on account of some of the speakers being unable to come.

Among the features of the convention will be addresses by Congressman H. L. Godwin and Mr. O. F. Crowson, a well known newspaper man, of Burlington, who is now secretary to one of the Congressional committees at Washington.

The opening meeting will begin Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, with the singing of "America" and devotional exercises by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, after which Col. Walker Taylor will deliver the address of welcome. Mr. Thos. V. Howell, of Peachland, will make the response, after which will be the roll call of officers and delegates. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the appointments of committees the meeting will adjourn for dinner.

At the afternoon session, which begins at 2:00 o'clock, the credentials committee will make its report. Mr. H. McL. Green, postmaster of Wilmington, will then introduce Hon. H. L. Godwin, Congressman from this district, who will make an address.

Following Mr. Godwin's address will be talks by a number of rural letter carriers. The reports of the officers will then be made.

At the morning session Friday there will be reports from the other committees and an address by a representative of the Postoffice Department.

This will be followed by an address by Mr. O. F. Crowson, of Washington, D. C.

All unfinished business will be taken up at the afternoon meeting, after which will come the election of officers and the selection for the next place of meeting. The session will close with the singing of "God be With You Till We Meet Again," and the benediction by the Chaplain, Mr. D. N. Hunt.

The committee on entertainment for the meeting is as follows: Mr. R. F. Gore, chairman; Mr. J. W. Russ, Wilmington; Mr. D. J. Ward, Winnabow; Mr. A. J. Mallard, Atkinson; Mr. L. B. Carr, Wallace.

The officers of the association are: President, Mr. C. H. Howard, St. Pauls; vice-president, Mr. J. M. Hayes, Burlington; secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. C. D. Beaman, Statonsburg.

One of the pleasing social features of the convention planned by the members of the entertainment committee is a trip to Wrightsville Beach, at the conclusion of the afternoon session Thursday. Other trips will probably be made later. During their stay in the city the Gilbert House will be headquarters for the delegates.

Architects Saturday.

The North Carolina Architects' Association will meet at the Seashore Hotel on Saturday, July 5th, and it is expected that there will be in attendance from 25 to 50 architects from different sections of the State. There will be two sessions, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The association has met at Wrightsville Beach every Summer for several years. Mr. Joseph E. Leitner, who is an experienced hand at the business, has charge of the arrangements for the meeting, and has planned a number of pleasing social features for the convention. It is expected that those who attend the meeting will remain over for the week-end at the beach.

Also the Builders.

The Master Builders' Exchange of the State will hold their semi-annual meeting at the Oceanic Hotel, on Thursday and Friday of this week.

They expect to have in attendance 50 or 75 delegates. There will be in connection with the speeches, reports and talks exhibits of different products and articles manufactured by the members of the association. Arrangements are also being made for a number of social features for the meeting.

The officers of the association are as follows: President, Mr. H. A. Fogle, Winston-Salem; vice president, Mr. J. F. Rhodes, Newbern; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Harry Miller, Charlotte.

Abduction Case Today.

The case against Valla McLaughlin, charged with the abduction of a 14-year-old negro girl, is set for trial in the Recorder's court today. This was continued from last week because of the fact that a colored preacher, Evangelist T. C. Person, as he styles himself, who was implicated in the matter, had apparently skipped out, and the police wanted to get in touch with him. Chief of Police Williams yesterday received a letter from him stating that he would return today for the trial.

WILL PAY SAME FOR WATER

City Council Recedes From Its Action With Regard to Enforcement of Double Water Rates in the Suburbs.

City Council in called session yesterday morning voted to recede from the position taken at the last regular meeting that the residents of Carolina Heights and Carolina Place be required to pay twice as much for water service from the municipal plant as is charged the consumers who live inside the corporate limits. Under the decision reached yesterday the residents of these suburbs will continue to pay the same rate as is charged in the city, but a small increase will be made for fire protection.

Mr. Thos. W. Davis, Esq., representing the property owners of Carolina Heights and Carolina Place, and B. H. Bridgers, Esq., representing the corporation developing Carolina Heights, appeared before the Council with reference to the water rates. There is an ordinance that requires that persons living outside of the city limits shall pay double the rate charged in the city, unless otherwise ordered by the Council.

Mr. Davis stated that in 1906 the American Suburban Corporation, which developed Carolina Place, paid over to the Clarendon Waterworks Company the sum of $1,300 as part payment of the cost of laying water pipe along Market street from 10th to 17th, and that the said American Suburban Corporation secured a contract with the Clarendon Waterworks Company, whereby they would furnish water to all the residents of Carolina Place at the regular city rates, provided the American Suburban Corporation laid all of the necessary pipes within Carolina Place, and that the Clarendon Waterworks Company further agreed that it would pay to the American Suburban Corporation each year one-half of the gross receipts for water until these pipes were paid for, when these pipes would become the property of the Clarendon Waterworks Company. It was stated that the late Miss Mary Bridgers, who began the development of Carolina Heights, just across the street from Carolina Place, had a similar contract with the waterworks company. However, this contract, it was stated, was possibly never reduced to writing, as a copy could not be found.

The point was made that when the city purchased the plant of the Clarendon Waterworks Company it agreed to carry out all contracts and agreements previously made by the company. These pipes are being used by the city in furnishing water to the suburbs and it was stated that two houses at 17th and Princess streets and three at Winoca Terrace are receiving water through these pipes, also.

Members of Council took the position that as the suburbs furnished the pipes in which to convey the water from the edge of the corporate limits and the city is put to no additional expense thereby, that it was only fair and just to give the suburbs the same rates as obtain in the city proper, provided, however, that the residents of the suburbs pay an additional amount as fire protection. Messrs. Davis and Bridgers appeared perfectly willing that an additional water charge be made to cover fire protection. Then came the question of how much. Amounts varying from 50 cents to $1 per house per quarter were suggested. The revenue derived at the latter rate would be about $400 a year, it was stated. The matter of an increase to cover fire protection will be taken up at a later meeting.

Upon motion of Councilman Merritt the Water and Sewerage Department was directed to take charge of a deep well in the alley of St. James' Square. The well was sunk by property owners, but with the idea that it would be maintained by the city for public use.

Councilman Wood brought up the matter of water rates and a resolution was read to amend the ordinance as now exists, but upon motion the consideration of the same was postponed until the next meeting. The proposed schedule of rates was published in The Star last week.

MINISTERS OPPOSE CHANGE

Appoint Committee to Take Up Matter of Sunday Selling in Wilmington—Not Asking for "Blue" Laws.

After going over the matter quite thoroughly, discussing it from nearly every angle, the Wilmington Ministerial Association, in joint session with prominent laymen from the different churches, yesterday morning appointed a committee of three clergymen and three laymen to take under advisement some plan of securing a better observance of the Sabbath.

The committee will make report at a later meeting. If any definite plan was decided on yesterday, no announcement of it was made. In fact, nothing regarding the meeting was given out for publication beyond the statement that a committee had been appointed. It is understood, however, that the ministers are not seeking what are known as "blue" laws, as would appear from a statement made to The Star Saturday night by one of the most prominent ministers in the city, but rather they are in favor of going back to the old ordinance which was repealed by the City Council several weeks ago. This, they think, so it was stated, furnished a very good standard towards which to work. From the statement made Saturday night by one of the ministers the plan then was to have the State law enforced, which would close everything tight. This now appears not to be the idea of those who would have the Sabbath more generally regarded in Wilmington.

One of the ministers attending the meeting yesterday talked last night of the general view held by the members of the association. They do not want any wider open Sunday than Wilmington has had, and think that recent legislation by the Council has had this tendency. They do not want to have a "wide open" town such as Jacksonville, New Orleans and Western cities have, it is stated, but are in favor of an ordinance or regulation, such as will serve the best interests of all concerned and yet preserve the sanctity of the Sabbath.

The ministers, it was pointed out, do not wish to be regarded as fanatics or extremists on the subject. They are emphatically opposed to having such observance of the Sabbath as prevails in some of the large cities.

It is expected that the committee appointed yesterday will work out some plan, if the plan has not already been worked out, and report to the association at an early date.

SPECIAL AUDITORS REPORT

nues of $47,326.76, there were expended for extensions and betterment, $38,303.50, leaving a balance of $9,023.26, which has been turned over to the city treasury.

"There has been expended from the bond funds account the sum of $550,048.75 for extensions and betterments in the Water and Sewerage Depattmenr in addition to the amount expended out of net operating revenues, and there remains a balance of unexpended bond fund amounting to $69,250.12.

"The present accounting system of the waterworks office entirely represents receipt and disbursement method, and does not provide for the proper controlling accounts, representing initial charges for water sales and unconsumed material and supplies, which is not only important in the process of verification, but is necessary in the preparation of financial statements.

"In order to verify the accuracy of the paid and unpaid bills originating during the period under review, it would be first necessary to establish a true record of the consumers, which would necessarily require a physical inspection of the service connections, consuming a great deal of both time and expense.

"While we did not verify the individual ledger postings of the water an dsewerage collections, which amounted to possibly 30,000 to 40,000 entries, we did satisfy ourselves by verification of cash book additions, that all receipts according to cash book were properly accounted for.

"There were evidences of a great many abatements made to consumers from time to time, the record of which, appeared only in memorandum form, and precluded the possibility of a satisfactory verification. There appears to be an incomplete record of the water consumers, to what extent we are unable to say, without first establishing a correct record of the consumers above referred to.

"Our examination disclosed evidence of the possibility of considerable loss in revenue, due to the fact that deposits or pre-payments were not collected from consumers as a rule before making service connections. In this connection we would suggest that the proper ordinance or rule be adopted requiring signed applications, also a deposit or pre-payment before service connection is made.

"We find the existing system of accounting in the treasurer's office contains a very accurate record of the receipts and disbursements passing through that department, all of which we verified and found correct according to the books.

"The system is based largely upon the receipt and disbursement method, and does not show accurate and proper departmental controlling accounts, which are necessary in intelligently preparing and submitting a financial statement covering the city's activities.

"In order to efficiently, as well as economically conduct the accounting department of the city, it is our opinion that the general accounting work of all the departments should be centralized into one department, except such minor clerical work as is necessary in the respective departments.

"We note in our examination of the books of the treasurer's office that the following receipts do not pass through that office: Electrical permit fees, building permit fees, and the sale of street sweeping and stable manure, if any.

"Our investigation showed that stable manures were exchanged for stable bedding and that the electrical and building permit fees were retained by the inspectors as their compensation. It is our opinion that all fees should pass through the treasurer's office, as well as the sale proceeds of street sweeping and stable manure, in order that a complete record of departmental transactions may be kept.

"It is the custom of the tax collector to keep on hand as a working cash balance several hundred dollars, from which advances are frequently made to employes between pay day periods. We would suggest that an imprest fund be created and charged to the cashier or tax collector upon the books of the treasurer for the purpose of the working cash capital, and all receipts be deposited daily, the result of which would be that the total deposits bank books would equal the amount shown by the treasurer's books as receipts for any given period.

"The scope of our audit and examination embraced the process of verifying all receipts and disbursements according to the departmental books and records, and we satisfied ourselves that the exhibits and schedules we have prepared, set forth a true statement of the financial condition of the City of Wilmington at the close of business May 31st, 1913, and the departmental operations covering a period of two years ending at that date.

"Our careful audit and examination did not disclose any evidence of the improper handling of funds, or irregularities in book entries, and we certify that subject to the qualifications herein, the exhibits and schedules herewith submitted are true and correct according to the books."

As the Council was not ready to go into the consideration of the recommendations of the auditors and as it is necessary to have a bookkeeper in the Water and Sewerage Department, pending the proposed consolidation, the Water and Sewerage Department was authorized to secure additional help for the next 30 days on account of the collection period, which begins today.

DESIGNATION REVOKED.

McAdoo Heeds Protests of Georgia Citizens.

Washington, June 30.—Quickly heeding the protest of Brunswick, Ga., citizens, against the placing of Eugene R. Belcher, a negro, in the position of deputy customs collector in charge of the port of Brunswick, Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury Department today revoked Belcher's designation and named L. P. Johnson as deputy collector to assume charge there on July 1st, when the new customs reorganization goes into effect.

Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, protested to Secretary McAdoo, and also presented a protest from Brunswick citizens stating that Belcher's designation was a violation of their feelings and wishes.

Brunswick, Ga., June 30.—The following protest against the designation of Eugene R. Belcher, a negro, as deputy collector of customs at this place today was forwarded to Georgia Representatives and Senators in Congress by local citizens:

"We are informed that the negro Belcher, who holds position of deputy collector for the port of Brunswick, will be in charge of the office after July 1st. If this information is based on fact, we enter our protest against such violation of our feelings and wishes. The solidarity of the democracy of Georgia and the entire South results from a determined opposition of our people to any semblance of negro domination. We ask that this negro be removed from office and a white man appointed."

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Negro Thieves Entered Plant of the E. L. Mathews Candy Co. Sunday.

In broad daylight Sunday afternoon, about 1 o'clock, four negro boys entered the plant of the E. L. Mathews Candy Co., at Front and Hanover streets, and carried away a quantity of candy. One of the candy makers employed in the factory happened to be passing along, and saw one of the boys loaded down with candy. His suspicions being aroused, he made investigation, and made the boy tell where it came from. The police department was notified, and they immediately set to work to ferret out the robbery.

Three of the boys were found while the fourth and largest made his escape. The boys stated that they were pushed through the opening between the gate and the wall, and that they got the candy and passed it out to this negro. The factory has only recently been completed, and shutters have not yet been placed on the windows, so that when the thieves got inside the wall surrounding it, they found it an easy matter to force their way in.

The three boys captured being quite small were released with the understanding from their mothers that they would be brought into court whenever needed. It is said that the boy who directed the robbery came here recently with his mother from Norfolk, and it is thought that he has been implicated in several robberies in the city lately.

May Smith, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by the police department on a warrant sworn out by Mr. E. L. Mathews, charging her with having received stolen goods. The police are at work trying to find the other boy in the case.

Goes to Southport.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. Robert E. Ranson has returned from Troy where he has been superintendent of schools for the past year. He and his family are guests at the home of his father, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ranson, on North McDowell street. Mr. Ranson has accepted a position at Southport and will go there in August in order to familiarize himself with the situation. Mr. Ranson was formerly a newspaper man but is now a teacher of experience."

WILMINGTON LAW SCHOOL.

New Institution for Wilmington Was Granted Charter Yesterday.

The Wilmington Law School received a charter from the Secretary of State yesterday, the incorporators being Harry E. Rodgers, Esq., formerly a member of the faculty of the Law Department of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Walter C. Benson and Wm. F. Jones, Esqs., of the Wilmington bar, and the institution will open September 10th, in a building yet to be selected. The school will give a two years' course and will have day and nigth classes. Mr. Rodgers will be dean of the college, and some of Wilmington's leading attorneys will be members of the faculty. It is expected that there will be a large number of young men from upper South Carolina and eastern North Carolina enrolled when the institution opens in the Fall. It is announced that the school will teach law as a science as well as to turn out practitioners, and to that end will make a departure from the usual rule of Southern law schools, by conferring the degree of Bachelor of Legal Science on those not intending to practice, in lieu of the Bachelor of Laws.

TWENTY-EIGHT EXECUTED.

The Report is Denied by Mexican Federal Military Authorities.

Douglas, Ariz., June 30.—Twenty-eight men were executed in Juarez today, according to credited reports, but which were denied by the Mexican Federal military authorities. The victims are said to be men who were arrested Saturday and Sunday night in connection with the discovery of dynamite beneath the Juarez Federal building, and the finding of smuggled arms and ammunition in several residences.

Upon information furnished by Mr. G. C. McIntire, of Winter Park, ten automobile owners of this city were recently arrested for speeding through the park. Three of the numbers furnished by Mr. McIntire belong to cars from other cities, one of these being in High Point, one in Durham and one in Scotland county. The owners of the cars in Durham and High Point state that they have never been in New Hanover county. The owners of the cars corresponding to the numbers were located through the State Treasury Department, which has charge of the licensing of automobiles. A "Wicked, Diabolical Lie"

Rushville, Ind., June 30.—A "wicked, diabolical lie," was the way Former Representative James E. Watson characterized the statement by Martin M. Mulhall, that Watson drank six cocktails in Mulhall's room in a hotel in Indianapolis during the campaign of 1908.

"That statement," said Mr. Watson, "practically carries with it its own refutation. He (Mulhall) says he got six cocktails in his room at one time, and then modestly withdrew while I drank them all. The statement is a wicked, diabolical lie."

Mr. Watson reiterated that he had been employed only by the National Association of Manufacturers to further the movement for the tariff commission at the extra session of Congress in 1909 and that his connection with the association ceased with the adjournment of the special session.

To Investigate Charges

Hartford, Conn., June 30.—Colonel George L. Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, this afternoon said he was going to investigate the lobby charges made by Martin M. Mulhall. Colonel Pope said he had never heard of Mulhall until last Spring and he knew nothing of his connection with the association.

Taft Withholds Opinion

New Haven, Conn., June 30.—Former President William H. Taft today declined to discuss the lobby charges made by Martin M. Mulhall, except to send word through his secretary that he regarded the statement as one of those muckraking attacks that men occupying public office are subject to.

Washington, June 30.—John Kirby, of Dayton, Ohio, former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who is in San Francisco, was asked by telegraph tonight to appear before the committee on July 8th or as soon thereafter as possible. The committee also telegraphed David M. Parry, of Indianapolis, a former president of the association, asking him to testify.

A MAMMOTH UNDERTAKING.

To Enact Drastic Reorganization of Customs Service.

Washington, June 30.—The machinery by which the government collects $300,000,000 annually in tariff duties will be revolutionized tomorrow by the most drastic reorganization of customs service ever attempted. By a sweeping consolidation of the customs districts grown to 162 during the nation's history, has been reduced to 49, and 114 collectors of customs lose their positions.

Officials estimate that the reorganization will result in an annual saving of between $400,000 and $500,000 in the cost of collecting the duties. Because of ambiguous phraseology in the law authorizing the reform, officials still are unable to determine whether Congress contemplated a saving of $350,000 or $700,000 by the reorganization.

NATIONAL BALLOON RACE.

Seven Entries for Fifth Annual Contest from Kansas City

New York, June 30.—Seven entries for the fifth annual balloon race have been received by the Aero Club of America, it was announced tonight by Allan R. Howly, president of the club, and chairman of the general contest committee. Another balloonist is expected to qualify, making eight that will make the start from Kansas City July 4th, under the auspices of the Kansas City Aero Club.

The Aero Club of America will select three balloons just after the National race to represent it in the International contest in France in October. Distance covered before coming to earth will determine the winners in the race next week. The present National record is 1,712 miles, made in 1910, by Alan R. Hawley.

Judge George Rountree

Judge George Rountree, of this city, who was recently appointed by Governor Craig as judge of the Judicial District of which New Hanover is a part, will be sworn in today. His first term of court will be in Wilmington, beginning July 14th. It will be for two weeks and for the trial of criminal matters.

THIS WOMAN HAD MUCH PAIN WHEN STANDING

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made Her a Well Woman.

Chippewa Falls, Wis.—"I have always had great confidence in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I found it very good for organic troubles and recommend it highly. I had displacement, backache and pains when standing on my feet for any length of time, when I began to take the medicine, but I am in fine health now. If I ever have those troubles again I will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ED. FERRON, 816 High St., Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin.

Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had organic displacement and bearing down pains and backache and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABRIL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

ERECTING BARRICADES

Juarez Threatened With Attack by Pancha Villa's Insurgents

El Paso, Texas, June 30.—Federal authorities in Juarez began erecting barricades in the streets today to meet the threatened attack of the Pancho Villa's insurgents. All non-combatants were warned to leave the city for eight days.

The warning was delivered by Manuel Navarro, of Valla's staff, through American Consul T. D. Edwards. Dr. Navarro telephoned the message from El Paso. He also telephoned to General Scott that Villa would make every effort to prevent firing into El Paso.

Glasgow, June 29.—Incendiaries, believed to be suffragettes, burned Balink-Rain Castle, near Sterling, today. The loss is $500,000.

FEW PROPOSALS FOR HOME

Not Many Towns Place Bids for the Refuge for Wives and Widows of Confederates—The Crop Prospects

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 30.—Col. Ashley Horne, of Clayton, who is the president of the board of trustees of the proposed North Carolina Home for indigent wives and widows of Confederate veterans, said today that the time for the reception of bids from towns for the location of the home will be up July 1st, and that surprisingly few proposals have been received.

He expects to call the board together within the next ten days when the bids in hand will be examined, and as soon thereafter as possible the proposed sites will be inspected. He had very much hoped that Raleigh would, through her Chamber of Commerce, make an attractive offer, but nothing is yet in hand from the Capitol City. Col. Horne says the home will be needed for this purpose not more than 15 or 20 years longer and if the property was in Raleigh, the State could readily utilize it for other purposes. The best bid thus far is said to be from Fayetteville. The State has appropriated $10,000 for buildings and the city that gets the home is expected to give the site and possibly other aid in the establishment of a creditable home.

Governor Craig today granted a further 30 days reprieve for Claude Blackwell, who is under two years' sentence in Charlotte for the killing of Dr. Meisenheimer, in a room of a hotel there. The reprieve is in order that counsel for Blackwell may have further time to prepare and present their case for a pardon. This last reprieve is until August 1st.

The Forsyth Country Club, Winston-Salem, received a charter today with $75,000 capital authorized and $1,000 subscribed by W. N. Reynolds, George F. Dwire, P. H. Hanes, P. H. Hanes, Jr., and R. O. Apple, for a country club that shall be equipped with standard country club features including golf links. Other charters are to the Wilmington Law School, incorporated, capital $10,000 authorized and $300 subscribed by Harry E. Rodgers, William F. Jones and Walter C. Benson for conducting a law school and conferring the degrees of the profession; the Fairview Cemetery Co., of Albemarle, Stanly county, canital $3,000 althorized and $1,800 subscribed by J. E. Ewing, A. C. Heath and others. There is an amendment for the Independent Scales Co., of Asheville, providing for an increase of the capital to $120,000. James P. Sawyer is president of the corporation.

Secretary A. J. Maxwell, of the corporation commission, received today a letter from E. E. Clark, who has recently been re-appointed by President Wilson as chairman of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, commending very highly Mr. Maxwell's recent address before the North Carolina Merchants' Association at Wilmington, proposing the establishment of a steamboat line from Wilmington to New York as a means of getting relief for North Carolina from the much complained of freight rate discriminations against North Carolina shippers. In commending the position taken by Secretary Maxwell, Chairman Clark asks that additional copies of the address be sent him.

Secretary Elias Carr, of the State Department of Agriculture, is just back from a trip through the eastern section of the State and says he found crops rather unsatisfactory in Edgecombe county, but as fine as they could be in Pitt and some of the other counties of that section. Cotton in Edgecombe suffered from lice during the recent cold rains. Cotton and tobacco in Pitt county and around Greenville are especially fine. There are fine crops all along the railroad from Tarboro to Norfolk, he says.

Capt. T. B. Parker, of the division of farmers' institutes, just back from Western Carolina, says he saw fine cotton fields as far west as the Hickory section, and that the corn and wheat crops all through Western Carolina, including the Asheville and Toxaway sections are the finest they have ever had.

SWIMMING FOR SPEED.

No Swimmer Should Attempt Speeding Until in Form.

(From Outing.)

One of the chief obstacles in the path of the beginner is his eagerness for speeding, which leads him to constant sprinting under the watch. Abuse of the time trial cannot be too strongly inveighed against. Fast swimming, with every effort devoted to the improvement of one's performances, makes absolutely impossible the acquirement of form. It tends, rather, to accentuate and magnify every fault. Our collegians are the worst offenders in this line. Over and over again have I heard a 'varsity captain complain that he could not get the team candidates to train over courses longer than 100 yards, and that the majority of his men refused to try anything above the 50-yard dash. Most of these boys confine their work to thrashing up and down a short pool a couple of times at breakneck speed, and then quit for the day. How can one hope ever to gain skill through such a method?

The general rule may be set down that no swimmer should attempt speeding—and I mean in practice as well as in racing—until he can cover a quarter of a mile with a good stroke. It matters not whether one aims at becoming an all-round competitor or a specialist at the sprints, the same rule obtains. Once the stroke has been perfected, the chosen events may be taken up, but even then it is the best policy to alternate fast swimming with easy stretches, at moderate pace, under the watchful eye of the coach. It is always advisable to limit the number of time trials.

There are but two strokes which can be recommended to the racing man for free-style swimming: the crawl for distances not exceeding 220 yards, and both the crawl and the trudgeon for longer journeys. Some question is still in the mind of many as to which is preferable for the latter events, but in the writer's opinion—based upon the teachings of the past—any set of movements which affords best results at the furlong will also prove best at the longer courses after the swimmer has accustomed his muscles to the action by constant practice.

The system to adhere to is the following: Indoors, five minutes of steam to activate the circulation if cold, a swim, a shower immediately after to wash off any impurities, a vigorous rubdown, and dress without delay. Outdoors, as little exposure as possible to the sun during the hours of extreme heat, and only the amount of swimming that is necessary to get into condition.

The question of diet is another which cannot be settled with general rules. Most people know what food agrees with them and what does not, and common sense should dictate the choice. It may be pointed out, however, that a little extra flesh does not militate against a waterman, as it does against athletes in other branches of sport. On the contrary, it minimizes the ill effects of cold water, increases buoyancy and makes for endurance. Fat producing foods, therefore, need not be entirely eliminated.

DR. JOYNER IN NO DANGER

Does Not Fear Mormon Contamination on Visit to Utah

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 30.—Dr. J. Y. Joyner will spend this week in Salt Lake City attending the annual National Educational convention of which he is an ex-president and a director. As State Superintendent of Public Instruction, he received a day or two ago a letter from an Asheville lady asking for the names and addresses of the North Carolina teachers who would make this trip to Salt Lake City. She explained that she desired to send each one a leaflet exposing the falacies of Mormonism. She sent a copy to Dr. Joyner. He wrote her that he thought he and Prof. F. M. Harper, of Raleigh, would be the only North Carolina teachers to make the trip and he thought neither was in any danger of being contaminated; that he and Mrs. Joyner have spent several days there two years ago and came away more pleased with monogamy than ever and that now she was allowing him to return to Salt Lake City this year alone.

Under the caption "Betting on Baseball a Fad," the Raleigh afternoon paper says: "Betting on baseball is quite a fad these days. There are one or two regular exchanges, to use a Wall Street phase, and there is also some curbstone business."

State Treasurer Lacy received Saturday orders for $11,000 State bonds of the issue of July 1st. This makes just $236,000 bonds sold of the $1,143,500 issue authorized by the recent Legislature, which fell so far short of the required bids when bids were opened June 11th.

MR. R. G. RANKIN, SR., DEAD.

Passed Away Sunday Morning at James Walker Memorial Hospital.

Following an illness of only two days, Mr. R. G. Rankin, Sr., died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the residence of his son, Mr. R. G. Rankin, Jr., No. 3 North Ninth street, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church. The interment was at Oakdale cemetery. There were a large number of friends of the bereaved family present, and many floral designs.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. F. A. Lord, E. P. Willard, E. A. Metts, H. B. Peschau, Waddell Watters and Dr. Thomas M. Green.

Mr. Rankin was a son of the late R. G. and Susan Athalia Rankin, and was born February 20th, 1847, and was, therefore, 66 years old. At the early age of 17 he became a soldier in the Confederate army. After the war he returned home, and for a number of years worked for the firm of Williams & Murchison. Later he became a member of the firm of Williams, Rankin & Co., with which he was connected for many years. For the last few years he had not been in active business life, and on account of frail health only did light work.

He is survived by one son, Mr. R. G. Rankin, Jr., and by two brothers, Messrs. N. B. Rankin and John T. Rankin, well known business men of this city; and one sister, Mrs. Valerie Rankin Sprunt, of Dillon, S. C., who arrived yesterday to attend the funeral. They have the sympathy of a host of friends in their bereavement.

A large number of veterans of Cape Fear Camp were out of the city on account of the Gettysburg reunion, but those who were here met and attended the funeral of their late comrade.

DR. CHO CHOY DEAD.

Venerable Chinese Physician Passes In His 150th Year.

New York, June 30.—Dr. Cho Choy, late of China and Cuba, died at the Ellis Island Immigration station today in his 150th year.

With a party of Chinese he was en route from Cuba and Canada under bond, having arrived here yesterday from Havana. His health was excellent, he said, and he resented suggestions that stories of his age were exaggerated. Choy stoutly declared that he was born in 1764 at Shan Hai Kwang. He became suddenly ill last night. The aged Manchu was more than six feet tall and bald, while his features were a web of grey wrinkles. He lived for 50 years in his native land, and claimed to have spent nearly 100 years in Cuba practicing medicine among the Chinese there, where he acquired considerable wealth.

While on Ellis Island the doctor partook of no nourishment except a few tabloids of concentrated food, which he always carried with him a and a little cold water.

DON'TS ON RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is stubborn as a mule. Hangs on like a leech, wears you out, worries you with pain, drags your vitality, depresses your mind and health. DON'T give up to it. DON'T let it hang on. DON'T overlook Foley Kidney Pills. They are a natural enemy to the conditions that cause rheumatism, which they will promptly remove.—R. R. Bellamy.

THE TINNERS' STRIKE.

To the Editor of The Star:

In your issue of the 17th, we note a local item in regard to the strike of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Alliance for a closed shop, which is still on and will continue until all the employers of workmen of our trade have agreed to run closed shops.

Now, in justice to our organization, as well as the general public, we wish to show that the statements as to the facts in regard to the agreement we asked for with the various employers, given you as is stated, by Pease Bros., and the Hanover Iron Works, are erroneous and unjust.

In the third paragraph of the article it is stated, first, that the only reason Pease Brothers and the Hanover Iron Works refuse to sign the agreement to run a closed shop is that if they signed, at the time, it would be a matter of only a few weeks until our union would ask for a uniform wage scale (the union asking only for a closed shop at that time, no scale having been mentioned), and in the next sentence the statement is made that another reason for their failure to sign was that there was no wage scale presented to them, and it is further stated that Messrs. Pease and the Hanover Iron Works claim a sufficent number of first-class workmen to do their work.

Now, as to the number of first-class workmen we have in our union, and as to the lower rate workmen, we wish to state that the two firms mentioned have, up to the time of our demand for a closed shop, been able to secure a sufficient number of workmen—who are now members of our union—to do all the first-class work for the two above named firms. The facts as to why they do not desire to sign any agreement with us are these:

They wish to have us furnish them with a few first-class workmen at first-class wages in order that they can send their patrons bills at the rate of $6 a day, claiming that they employ only first-class workmen, when in reality, they have been doing the bulk of their work with men who can only demand the lower rate they speak of, which is plainly admitted by them in the article to which we refer on the 17th, in the same paragraph.

Now, from the article published in The Star, the general public may think that our organization is composed of a lot of unskilled incompetents, banded together for the purpose of "choking" something out of the employers, when the facts are as follows:

They have been employing a few men at a fair rate of wages and paying the others whatever amount they cared to, thereby exploiting the majority of their employes of the larger part of their earnings, at the same time receiving from the public amounts for their work based on a first-class wage scale, thereby "fleecing" the public, having them think the workmen are receiving their portion of same and that the are getting their work done at the lowest possible first-class rate.

These are the conditions we are organized to change and the only way to do so is to have an agreement with employers that they will employ none but members of our organization who are first-class workmen, who can and will demand first-class wages.

We are organized to elevate the condition of our members by all honorable means and no other, and not to injure any one. Believing that in justice to our organization you will publish this communication for us, we are, Yours respectfully,

WITH THE MOVIES

The cool, handsome, fascinating Grand, with its always big show and tiny price (5 cents, all the time), made a great and glorious inauguration of the new week yesterday. Today will bring forth another corking good show. Four big pictures will make up today's show. The dramatic photoplays will be especially strong, headed by "The Stolen Loaf," which tells the story of a purloined loaf of bread that relieves the needs of a poor man's family. Another powerful dramatic is Selig's "Religion and Gun Practice," depicting the struggles of a missionary during the early days of the Great West. The fun pictures are rousers, led by "The Doctor's Love Affairs." Cines also has a swell film subject on today's superb programme.

At the Bijou Today

The popular Bijou is "there" and here today with the biggest film sensation of years and one that especially fits and grips the times. Leading its big new show today—a show, by the way, which consists of five great films, with plenty of new music on the side, and all for 5 cents admission, afternoon or night—will be the special two-reel release, "The Japanese Dagger." People who have kept up at all with things of the present will recognize in this film something that precisely accords with the times and that will prove of intense interest. The story is a thrilling one and is both weird and beautiful, and is one of the most stupendous offerings that could possibly be made. Every second's presentation of both reels is fascinating and exciting.

In addition to this timely film, the Bijou will offer another one that will fit the times and help the atmosphere of the special two-reel release. It will be, "The Children of Japan."

Another splendid film today will be "Native Industries in Soudan," which is a wonderful educational film by Pathe. Yet another fine one will be "Building Pontoon Bridges." Of course, the Bijou will be delightfully comfortable, as ever.

Lake Waccamaw Celebration

Mr. K. B. Council, of Lake Waccamaw, was in the city to spend the week-end. He stated that preparations are being made for a great picnic at Lake Waccamaw on the Fourth of July. For years a picnic at the lake on the glorious Fourth has been the custom, and the people come from far and near to attend. During the Summer months there are quite a number of people who go to Lake Waccamaw to spend their vacation, and Mr. Council states that this year there will be more than ever before.

No matter how silly a girl is, her folks always expect her to marry well.

WILMINGTON CHIEF PORT

Wilmington Collector Has Supervision of North Carolina Ports

Effective today the Wilmington collector of customs assumes supervision of all North Carolina ports, under the plan of re-organization recently announced by Hon. William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury. Hitherto the collectors at Newbern, Beaufort, Elizabeth City, Manteo, Washington and Edenton have reported directly to the department at Washington but under the new system the collector at the ports that will be kept open will report to Mr. B. F. Keith, the collector for the port of Wilmington, who today becomes the collector for the State of North Carolina as well.

Two of the North Carolina ports of entry have been abolished, these being Washington and Edenton. At the other ports there will be stationed deputy collectors. The business of the ports that have been abandoned will be handled through the other ports.

The new plan does not effect the organization here which remains the same as it has been. Announcement was made in Sunday's Star of the appointments for the other ports which are as follows: Newbern, J. Albert Patterson; Beaufort, M. H. Marshall; Elizabeth City, Miss Katherine B. Davis (temporary); Manteo, no appointment was made.

A few weeks ago Mr. Keith, in carrying out instructions from the department at Washington, made a visit to each of the ports that now come under his supervision and then recommended for deputy collectors persons he considered suitable for the place. He found some difficulty, he said at the time, in getting persons to agree to serve, owing to the small salary these positions pay. However, he did find suitable persons to agree to serve in all but one of the towns, it was reported at the time, and he sent his recommendations to Washington. A few days after the recommendations were filed newspaper stories were sent out from Washington to the effect that Senator Simmons and Congressmen Godwin and Small were very much displeased at the action of Mr. Keith in recommending persons for appointment as deputy collectors in their respective districts, taking the position that the places should be filled by persons recommended by them. There was even talk that an effort might be made to remove Mr. Keith from office for making the recommendations. Mr. Keith promptly came back at them with the statement that it was immaterial to him who were put in as deupty collectors, just so they were suitable persons, and that in making recommendations he was merely carrying out orders of the department. A few more stories were sent out from Washington bearing on the matter, and then the question was apparently dropped. The next thing that was heard was news Saturday night of the appointments as noted above.

Mr. Keith wasasked yesterday if the appointees were those recommended by him. He replied that he did not know if it matters, that all he wanted was the appointment of suitable persons, that he had no preference whatever. Finally, however, he said that "some of them" were recommended by him. Asked if it were not the young lady at Elizabeth City, whom it was understood all along would be appointed, he said that he did not remember, and reiterated that it did not make any difference anyway who was appointed just so they did the work satisfactory. And, after all, that is the most important thing.

PRESIDENT VISITS CAPITOL.

Conferences Over Appointments—The Secretary's Elusive Lid.

Washington, June 30.—President Wilson made a sudden trip to the Capitol just after 2 o'clock this afternoon. With Secretary Tumulty he whirled off from the White House offices carrying a large sheaf of papers.

When the President arrived at the Capitol he immediately began conferences with Senators over appointments.

The President talked briefly with Senator Bacon about Mexican affairs, but neither would disclose the nature of the conversation. As he left the Capitol, President Wilson said his visit had been chiefly to discuss some appointments of a routine character.

With Senator Overman, chairman of the Lobby Investigating committee, the President discussed the Mulhall charges briefly. The President indicated keen interest in the work of the committee which is to be resumed July 6th.

Secretary Tumulty lost his hat during the conferences, and President Wilson lost five minutes of valuable time as a consequence.

The President had started to leave his room when Tumulty announced that he could not find his hat. Secret service men searched the room without avail. President Wilson called to the newspaper men on the outside:

"Any of you wearing Tumulty's hat?"

Half a dozen employes of the Senate joined in the search, and after five minutes' delay the President took his secretary away hatless.

After the secret service men and Capitol attaches had spent some time on the trail of the elusive Tumulty hat, Senator Mark Smith, of Arizona, was discovered on his way home serenely wearing the much-sought headgear. He surrendered it, but not without protestations of his innocence.

RESERVE NATIONAL FORESTS

Commission Approves Vast Area of Land Upon Watersheds for Purchase by Government Will Protect Forests

Washington, June 30.—Nearly 80,000 acres of land at the headwaters of the James and Shenandoah rivers were approved for purchase today by the National Forest Reservation Commission. The commission also approved 3,430 acres near the famous Virginia Natural Bridge; 10,437 acres in the White Top Mountain region near the Junction of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, and 20,587 acres at the head of the Monongahela river, upon the Ohio watershed.

The four acres approved, made up the largest set of purchases passed upon at any one time by the commission. They aggregate 113,909 acres, and bring the total of all the National forests in the East up to 713,415 acres. The White Toy area consists of six tracts aggregating 10,437 acres, and affects the watershed of the Holston river, which in turn flows into the Tennessee. Four of these six tracts adjoin lands already bought, or in process of acquisition, while the remaining two will connect with areas now being examined with a view to purchase. The prices vary from $3.50 for cut-over lands to $10 an acre for lands covered with a fair stand of timber. The average price is $5.18 an acre. The Natural Bridge area involves three tracts, the largest containing 2676 acres. This is well timbered and close to the Glenwood estate already acquired. The highest price paid is $7.50 an acre, with an average of $6.64.

Forest protection on the James and Shenandoah watersheds, according to the experts may be expected to benefit the navagability of the Potomac and James rivers. Six tracts, aggregating 79,464 acres, are recommended for purchase, the first to be acquired in this area. The lands are in part cut over, in part so badly burned that they have borne no merchantable and in part covered by timber of commercial value. Prices in the Shenandoah are a vary from $3 to $4 an acre, an average of $3.01.

CO-OPERATION IN ITALY

American Commission Sees Fertilizer Plant—Corn Cattle Feed

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Piacenza, Italy, June 28.—A $150,000 plant for manufacture of phosphate fertilizer, a storage warehouse for distribution of farm implements, and a plant for manufacture of corn cattle food; all built through co-operative effort and financed through credit co-operatively obtained, were shown to the American Commission on Agricultural Co-operation here.

The manufacture of compressed corn cakes was an impressive demonstration of the utilization of every asset which is a characteristic feature of European agriculture. The country about this city does not produce any corn. Cattle is raised, however, and so corn has to be bought from other districts. In the corn grain there is an oil which has absolutely no nutritive value. It is a waste. But in Italy the corn is placed in hydraulic presses and this oil is squeezed out. The oil is sold for the manufacture of soap and the corn is pressed into cakes which are distributed among the members of the co-operative institutions. The same plan has been attempted in the United States, but was not found commercially successful. There is not profit enough in the sale of the oil nor in the sale of the corn cakes in competition with the grain. But in the enterprise visited by the commission profit is not considered. So long as there is any saving at all it is sufficient reason to adopt the plan; for the entire work is carried on upon a co-operative, non-profit seeking basis.

In the manufacture of the phosphate fertilizer it is evident that the farmers have gotten down to raw material prices at every point. Iron oxide is bought and roasted. The freed sulphur is employed in the manufacture of sulphuric acid. The natural phosphatic rock is bought and treated with the acid for manufacture of the fertilizer. In this way the farmers buy for themselves only the raw material and conduct every step of the manufacturing process themselves. It is a large undertaking but it has succeeded. The produce of the plant supplies fertilizer for farms of 115,000 acres about the city.

The actual demonstration of the ability of a community of farmers to thus initiate and conduct economically a manufacturing business of this size was the most convincing lesson of the practicability of agricultural co-operation which the commission has yet seen.

The enterprise is carried on by the Consortio Agrari, an association of landowners. In this part of Italy the soil is mostly owned by large landowners, and is farmed through a tenant system on a share basis. Consequently co-operation as it would have to be practiced in the United States is not to be seen here. The men belonging to the association are landowners and the small farmers receive only direct benefit from the co-operative associations without entering into their management. In such an enterprise as the one seen by the commission in Piacenza it is clearly shown that an association of farmers or landowners are capable of giving an economical administration to a business enterprise. There is no paternalism nor leading strings connected with the project. It is such a business undertaking as would be worthy of the best of American enterprises.

The association has erected a large warehouse for storing farm implements. A majority of the machines are of American manufacture, but the assertion so often made in the United States that American machines can be bought at lower prices in Europe than at home did not seem to be borne out by comparisons in prices made by the members of the commission with the managers of the warehouse, although the prices quoted at the warehouse were practically wholesale prices, since no profits are sought in the sale of implements to members of the co-operative institutions.

Credit for operations of this enterprise are obtained through a local co-operative bank, but not one of a rural type. It is a co-operative bank organized among the small tradesmen of the town as well as the farmers, and though much of its business is to decentralize credit for the tradesmen and so help the small dealer, it pursues the policy of granting every possible privilege to agricultural enterprise. The notes of the agricultural association are discounted and also the notes of the farmers themselves on purchases made through the association when guaranteed by the association.

Recalling that Federal authority no longer permits railroads to "murder" water competition the Kinston Free Press looks with favor upon the proposed million dollar boat line out of Wilmington and believes that the State and private individuals may invest in such an enterprise with full assurance that "it will not be done to death by foul means." The Free Press says: "Heretofore railroads have 'cut the heart out of' water competition. There was a time when there was real water competition and real competition between roads themselves. But that time has passed—except as to competition in service. Corporations will compete with each other in respect to service offered, but they have long since learned that in respect to rate—competitive discretion is the better part of valor and that gentlemen's agreements are much more profitable than industrial warfare. Later on in the history of the transportation problem there came a time when spasmodic, but real, efforts were made by water lines to compete with the roads. From obvious reasons this was frequently possible, and real competition showed itself. But the roads held the whip hand. They had resources upon which they could draw and a war of extermination by rate-cutting began. The result was that water companies were driven out of business or forced to an 'understanding' that left the public's best interests in the lurch. But all of this has been changed by recent act of Congress. Federal authority will not allow railroads to murder water competition in any such way. They will not let railroads cut below a figure which will accord the water route companies a reasonable compensation." Such a boat line as proposed is not only feasible, but is urgently needed and we believe that it would prove not only a success financially, but would in large measure give to business interests relief from oppressive freight rates.—Greensboro News.

Bank notes that speak have been patented by an English inventor, to baffle forgers. The edge of the note is perforated so that, when placed in a phonograph, the rough edge generates sound waves that form words. A disputed note placed in the machine would say, for instance, "I am a genuine 5-pound note."

THE TOBACCO HORN WORM.

Government Report on Pest That Does Much Damage.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—Growers of dark tobacco in Kentucky and Tennessee have a serious problem in the ever-present tobacco horn worms which are great chewers of green tobacco. When labor was plentiful and cheap "hand worming" was an economical and efficient way to combat the pest. For several years labor in these tobacco growing districts has become scarce and also inefficient, so growers have been forced to resort to insecticides. Naturally, Paris green was tried and found to be the safest and most efficient of any on the market, but there has always been complaint of frequent and serious burning of tobacco, as a result of its use.

For five years employees of the Department of Agriculture have been conducting investigations looking for a safe and effective insecticide, and have determined that di-plumbic arsenate of lead meets all requirements.

A thorough application of this insecticide will kill practically every hornworm within two or three days after being applied, and will continue for several days to kill the young worms that hatch, without any injury to the plant.

Arsenate of lead costs more than Paris green, and, if the comparative cost were the only question, it would be useless to recommend the former; but the first cost is only a secondary consideration. The object is to kill the worms and not injure the plants, and the certainty of this compensates for the extra cost of the arsenate of lead. Arsenate of lead must be mixed with a carrier and applied with a dust gun. Finely sifted, freshly burned wood ashes make the best carrier, and at least a bulk equal to the insecticide should be used. The best guns are those with a fan diameter of 8 inches, with an auxiliary dust chamber.

Apply the mixture when the dew is on the plants and there is no breeze, and make the application thorough.

Do not wait too long. The first application should be made when the worms become too numerous to be kept off by the hand-picking that is usually done while hoeing, suckering or topping, and a second and even a third application may be nesessary.

To save the crop, applications must be given when the number of eggs and young worms indicate the need, and the dose per acre of the arsenate of lead will vary from 3 1-2 pounds before the plants have begun to lap in the row, to 5 pounds when the tobacco is full-grown. If applied as a spray, use 3 to 4 pounds in 100 gallons of water. Those interested in the subject can find detailed information in Entomology Circular 173, recently issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture entitled "Arsenate of Lead as an Insecticide against the Tobacco Horn Worms," by A. C. Morgan and D. C. Parman, entomological assistants.

THE COTTON MARKET QUIET

War Rumors Cause Prices to Ease Off In Late Trading—The Close Was Easy From 6 to 12 Points Lower.

New York, June 30.—The cotton market was quiet, but prices eased off rather sharply in the late trading on rumors that war had broken out between Greece and Bulgaria over the disputes in the Balkans. The close was easy and from 6 to 12 points net lower.

The market opened steady at an advance of two points to a decline of five points, near months being influenced by over-Sunday covering orders, while later deliveries reflected disappointing cables and a favorable weather map. July eased og right after the call under scattering liquidation, which was said to have been influenced by the circulation of additional notices estimated at 3,000 bales and that position soon sold at a net loss of 13 points.

Later deliveries, meanwhile worked off to a net decline of 6 or 7 points but as soon as scattered offerings of July had been absorbed the whole list steadied up on scattered covering. This demand may have been inspired by increasing complaints of boll weevil, or reports that further substantial shipments were to be made from the local stock to Liverpool, but the buying was not aggressive, and after a rally to within 3 or 4 points of Saturday's closing figures, the market hesitated.

Unfavorable political advices from Europe inspired increased pressure later when all the active months sold under the low point of the morning and closed at practically the lowest point of the day. With Friday and Saturday of this week holidays, trading seemed to be quite largely in the way of evening up accounts pending the government report and the three day adjournment. Detailed weather reports showed rains in the Southwest, where they were considered beneficial. It is claimed that ocean freight room has been engaged for 20,000 bales for shipment from New York during July.

Spot cotton, quiet; middling uplands, 12.40; middling gulf, 12.65; sales, none.

Futures closed easy.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Wilmington Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information

If your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
If urinary troubles set in,
Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.

L. H. Partin, 505 Chestnut St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "My back was weak and lame and I had acute pains across my loins. The secretions from my kidneys were highly colored and filled with sediment and caused me much distress when being voided. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a box from Bellamy's drug store and began using them according to directions. They acted just as represented and drove away all the symptoms of the complaint. I am pleased to confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ONE FEATURE IN STOCK MARKET

Harriman Dissolution Plan the One Important Development—General Tendency Dull and Heavy. Traders Explain.

New York, June 30.—Presentation in court at St. Paul of the Harriman dissolution plan was the one development of a stock market day which otherwise was featureless. The plan contained no surprises, its essential features having been known for some time, but the Harriman stocks slumped, and the whole list sold off on the news from St. Paul, although the market rose strongly on Saturday when it was announced that the plan had been agreed upon with the sanction of President Wilson.

The explanation by traders of the market's action was the character of the statement made by the Attorney General concerning the plan. The Attorney General's intimation that he favored prohibition of the ownership of stock of one railroad by another, and his request that the court approve the dissolution proposal subject to conditions which would not exempt stockholders under the plan from becoming defendants in any further suits were points used as a basis for selling stocks.

Union Pacific responded the more readily to pressure because of the extent of its rise on Saturday, and the contraction of the short interest on the rise, which apparently was due largely to covering. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific both sold down three points.

The decline in the Harriman stocks fitted in with the general tendency of the market which was dull and heavy. Although there was an occasional rally, gains were not well held, and losses of 1 to 2 points were frequent.

The release tomorrow of $215,000,000 July 1st interest and dividend money thus far exercised little or no effect on the money markets. Banks and other financial institutions, as well as bond and brokerage firms, are circularizing the country in an endeavor to stimulate a demand for higher grade securities, chiefly bonds, but the response to date, except for notes, has been light. The dullness of today's trading indicated that investors were still keeping out of the market, in spite of the current level on prices.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,388,000. United States 4s coupon declined 1-4, the registered 3s, the Panama 3s, 1-4 per cent. on call. Total sales today 184,100 shares.

Past, Present and Future Clearly Revealed.

Would you achieve success? Would you know and experience the pleasures that come from leading instead of being led? Would you win merit in eyes of those with whom you come in contact and create a favorable impression wherever you go? In short, are you tired of your present aimless hit-or-miss existence and lack of ability to create favorable impressions? Surely you are. Then it is a duty that you owe to yourself to call on me at once.

My readings are guides to success, health, wealth and happiness, giving you warnings of trouble head and foretelling the most favorable periods of your prospective enterprise. I will reveal to you a knowledge of your true self, showing you your individual adaptations. With the aid of the information gained from me you can marshal your every effort upon the correct object, thus doing away with the losses incident upon dilatoriness and misapplied effort. My readings and advice assist in harmonious and suitable marriage. In fact, through the advice gained by a careful and scientific reading through the mingled sciences of astrology, phrenology, palmistry and clairvoyance, you may, nay, you will, be able to make your life the complete success which nature intended it should be.

Do you wish to possess the key to the vaults of happiness, friendship, wealth and fame, or will you plod along vainly hoping that luck or chance may open the door for you? Why not consult this gifted woman at once? She can and will assist you.

Are you one of the poor unfortunates, who have made a bad beginning and ultimate failure in life? Are you weak, irritable, unnerved, despondent? Is your weakened system crying out for help? If so what are you going to do about it? Are you standing idly and allowing your possibilities to slip away from you, when by the proper advice you could achieve success and happiness.

Do you often wonder why some people seem able to always make a favorable impression while you cannot? The solution is easily explained, being due to that silent and unseen power, which we know under the name of "Personal Magnetism." Many people possess it without recognizing it as such. All persons have the fundamentals which may be nurtured and cultivated and caused to blossom into fullest fruition. You have this divinely planted ability. If it is lying dormant I will teach you how to stimulate it until you too, as well as those persons whose possession of it you now envy can, through the wonderful power of personal magnetism, attract others, who in turn, will find pleasure in conferring upon you their confidence, good will and patronage.

Life is not so much of a mystery as some people would have you believe. If you had studied more into Nature's laws and learned the lessons there revealed you would know better why some people succeed and others fail. There is a good reason. Come in and let me explain that reason to you.

Are you entirely satisfied with life? Are you satisfied with your condition? Are you up to the standard? If not, I want to talk to you, I can and will help you.

I am besieged every day with men and women in all walks of life seeking advice on matters such as love, courtship, marriage, divorce, sickness, law, speculation, wills, patents, deeds, and mortgages, hidden treasures, absent friends and relatives. I have helped thousands, why not you?

Call on me at once. You need have no fear of unpleasant surroundings, or having your confidence betrayed.

Please remember that I can be consulted only in my own home, 106 North Fourth street, second door north of Princess street.

DAVID'S

The first "4th of July" celebration

IN those days they celebrated the country's independence of foreign rule; they had to fight for it, but they got it. In these days there's a different sort of independence to be gained; and you ought to help win it.

Independence from fraud in merchandise is one of the things we 're trying for; the elimination of the cheap stuff that masquerades as quality. It appears in clothing in the form of cotton mixed fabrics, in "sloppy" tailoring, in flashy, undignified styles.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes are a declaration of independence; they're all-wool, the best tailoring, the best style; they give the wearer independence of thought; and they save him from paying too much for good clothes.

That's the way we sell them; at $18, $20, $25, and more; the best values you ever saw at $25.
